what he saith. [19] Now Iesus knew that they were desirous to aske him, and said vnto them, Doe yee enquire among your selues of that I said, A litle while, and ye shall not see mee: and againe; A litle while and ye shall see me? [20] Uerily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, but the world shall reioyce: And ye shall be sorrowfull, but your sorrow shall be turned into ioy. [21] A woman, when shee is in trauaile, hath sorrow, because her houre is come: but assoone as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembreth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world. [22] And ye now therefore haue sorrow: but I will see you againe, and your heart shall reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you. [23] And in that day ye shall aske me nothing: Uerily, verily I say vnto you, Whatsoeuer ye shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you. [24] Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shall receiue, that your ioy may be full. [25] These things haue I spoken vnto you in [a] prouerbs: the time commeth when I shall no more speake vnto you in [a] prouerbes, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father. [26] At that day ye shall aske in my Name: and I say not vnto you that I will pray the Father for you: [27] For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleeued that I came out from God. [28] I came foorth from the Father, and am come into the world: againe, I leaue the world, and goe to the Father. [29] His disciples said vnto him, Loe, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no [a] prouerbe. [30] Now are wee sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee: By this wee beleeue that thou camest foorth from God. [31] Iesus answered them, Doe yee now beleeue? [32] Behold, the houre commeth, yea is now come, that ye shall be scattered.

[19] And for their sakes sanctifie I my selfe, that they also might be sanctified through the trueth. [20] I pray not for them alone, but for them also which shal beleue on me, through their preachyng. [21] That they all may be one, as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, and that they may be also one in vs: that the world may beleue that thou hast sent me. [22] And the glorie that thou gauest me, I haue geuen them: that they may be one, as we are one. [23] I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may knowe, that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me. [24] Father, I wil that they which thou hast geuen me, be with me where I am: that they may se my glorie, which thou hast geuen me, for thou louedst me before the foundation of the world was layed. [25] O ryghteous Father, the world also hath not knowen thee, but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen, that thou hast sent me. And it vvas vvritten, IESVS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEVVES. 20 This title therfore many of the Ievves did reade: because the place vvhere IESVS vvas crucified, vvas nigh to the citie: and it vvas vvritten in Hebrevv, in Greeke, and in Latin. 21 The cheefe priests therfore of the Ievves said to Pilate, Vvrite not, The king of the Ievves: but that he said, I am king of the Ievves. 22 Pilate answered, That vvhich I haue vvritten, I haue vvritten.

23 The souldiars therfore vvhen they had crucified him, tooke his garments (and they made foure partes, to euery souldiar a part) and his coate. And his coate vvas vvithout seame, vvrought from the toppe through out. 24 They said therfore one to an other, Let vs not cut it, but let vs cast lottes for it vvhose it shal be. That the scripture might be fulfilled saying, They haue parted my garments among them: and vpon my vesture they haue cast lottes. And the souldiars did these things.

25 And there stoode beside the crosse of IESVS, his mother, and his mothers sister, Marie of Cléophas, and Marie Magdalene. 26 Vvhen IESVS therfore had seen his mother and the disciple standing vvhom he loued, he saith to his mother: Vvoman, behold thy sonne. 27 After that, he saith to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that houre the disciple tooke her to his ovvne.

28 Aftervvard IESVS knovving that al things vvere novv consummate, that the scripture might be fulfilled, he saith, I thirst. 29 A vessel therfore stoode there ful of vinegre. And they putting a sponge ful of vinegre about hyssope, offered it to his mouth. 30 IESVS therfore vvhen he had taken the vinegre, said, It is consummate. And bovving his head, he gaue vp the ghost.

crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the middest.

19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. And the writing was, IESVS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE IEWES. 20 This title then read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nigh to the citie, and it was written in Hebrewe, ℸ Greeke, and Latine. 21 Then said the chiefe Priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The king of the Iewes: but that he said, I am King of the Iewes. 22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, I haue written.

23 Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, (and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part) and also his coat: Now the coat was without seame, [α] wouen from the top thorowout. 24 They said therefore among themselues, Let not vs rent it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall bee: that the Scripture might bee fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the souldiers did.

25 Now there stood by the crosse of Iesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary the wife of [β] Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene. 26 When Iesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loued, he saith vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne. 27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that houre that disciple tooke her vnto his owne home.

28 After this, Iesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst. 29 Now there was set a vessell, full of vineger: And they filled a spunge with vineger, and put it vpon hyssope, and put it to his mouth. 30 When Iesus therefore had receiued the vineger, he said, It is finished, and he bowed his head, and gaue

21. AFTER that, Iesus shewed hym self agayne, at the sea of Tiberias: and on this wyse shewed he hym selfe. [2] There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galile, and the sonnes of Zebede, and two other of his disciples.	21. AFTER IESVS manifested him self againe at the sea of Tibérias. And he manifested thus: [2] There vvere together Simon Peter and Thomas vvho is called Didymus, and Nathanael vvhich vvas of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and tvvo others of his disciples.	21. AFTER these things Iesus shewed himselfe againe to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias, and on this wise shewed he himselfe. [2] There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathaneel of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. [3] Simon Peter saith vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, Wee also goe with thee. They went foorth and entred into a ship immediatly, and that night they caught nothing. [4] But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Iesus. [5] Then Iesus saith vnto them, [a]Children, haue ye any meat? They answered him, No. [6] And hee said vnto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and yee shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it, for the multitude of fishes. [7] Therefore that disciple whom Iesus loued, saith vnto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fishers coat vnto him, (for he was naked) and did cast himselfe into the sea. [8] And the other disciples came in a litle ship (for they were not farre from land, but as it were two hundred cubites) dragging the net with fishes.
[3] Simon Peter sayd vnto them, I go a fysshyng. They sayd vnto him, We also wyl go with thee. They went their way and entred into a shyp straightway, and that night caught they nothing. [4] But when the morning was now come, Iesus stode on the shore: neuerthelesse the disciples knewe not that it was Iesus. [5] Iesus then sayd vnto them, Sirs haue ye any meat? They answered hym, No. [6] And he sayd vnto them, Cast out the net on the right syde of the shyp, and ye shal fynde. then they cast out, and anone they were not hable to drawe it, for the multitude of fysshes.	[3] Simon Peter saith to them, I goe to fish. They say to him, Vve also come vvith thee. And they vvent forth and got vp into the boate: and that night they tooke nothing. [4] But vvhen morning vvas novv come, IESVS stoode on the shore: yet the disciples knevv not that it vvas IESVS.
[7] Then sayd the disciple whom Iesus loued vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he gyrde his coate to him, for he was naked, and sprang into the sea. [8] The other disciples came by shyppe (for they were not farre from lande, but as it were two hundred cubites) and they drewe the net with fysshes. [9] Assone then as they were come to lande, they sawe hotte coles, and fysshe layd theron, and bread. [10] Iesus sayd vnto them, Bryng of the fysshes, which ye haue now caught. [11] Simon Peter stepped forth and drewe the net to land, ful of great fysshes, an hundred, fifty, and three: and for all ther were so many, yet was not the net broken.	[5] IESVS therfore saith to them, Children, haue you any meate? They ansvvered him, No. [6] He saith to them, Cast the nette on the right side of the boate: and you shal finde. They therfore did cast it: and novv they vvere not able to dravv it for the multitude of fishes. [7] That disciple therfore vvhom IESVS loued, saith to Peter, It is our Lord. Simon Peter vvhen he had heard that it is our Lord: girded his coate vnto him (for he vvas naked) and cast him self into the sea. [8] But the other disciples came in the boate (for they vvere not farre from the land, but as it vvere tvvo hundred cubits) dravving the nette of fishes. [9] Therfore after they came dovvne to land, they savv hote coles lying, and fish laid thereon, and bread. [10] IESVS saith to them, Bring hither of the fishes that you tooke novv. [11] Simon Peter vvent vp, and drevv the nette to the land, ful of great fishes, an hundred fiftie three. And although they vvere so many, the nette vvas not broken.	[9] Assoone then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coales there, and fish layd thereon, and bread. [10] Iesus saith vnto them, Bring of the fish, which ye haue now caught. 1. IN the former treatyse deare friend Theophilus, I haue written of all that IESVS began to do, and teach, [2] Vntil the day in which he was taken vp, after that he through the holy Gost, had geuen commandementes vnto the Apostles, whome he had chosen. [3] To whom also he shewed him self alyue after his passion, by many infallible tokens, appearing vnto them by the space of fourty dayes, and speakyng of those things which apperteine to the kyngdom of God. [4] And gathering them together, he commanded them, that they shulde not depart from Ierusalem : but to wayt for the promes of the Father, which sayd he, ye haue heard of me. [5] For Iohn truly baptized with water, but ye shalbe baptized with the holy Gost, with in these fewe dayes. [6] When they therfore were come together, they asked of hym, saying, Lord wilt thou at this tyme, restore the kyngdome to Israel? [7] And he sayd vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the tymes, or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power. [8] But ye shal receaue power of the holy Gost, when he shal come on you : and ye shalbe wytnesses vnto me both in Ierusalem, and in all Iewrie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the vttermost partes of the earth. THE first treatise I made of al things, O Theophilus, vvhich IESVS began to doe and to teache, [2] vntil the day vvherein giuing commaundement by the holy Ghost to the Apostles vvhom he chose, he vvas assumpted: [3] to vvhom he shevved also him self aliue after his passion in many arguments, for fourtie daies appearing to them, and speaking of the kingdom of God. [4] And eating vvith them, he commaunded them, that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but should expect the promisse of the Father, vvhich you haue heard (saith he) by my mouth: [5] for Iohn in deede baptized vvith vvater, but you shal be baptized vvith the holy Ghost after these fevv daies. [15] These are not droncken, as ye suppose, since it is yet but the thyrde houre of the day. [16] But this is that, which was spoken by the Prophete Ioel, [17] And it shalbe in the last dayes (sayth God) I wil powre out of my Sprit vpon all fleshe: and your sonnes, and your daughters shal prophecie, and your yonge men shal se visions, and your olde men shal dreame dreames. [18] And on my seruantes, and on my handemaydens, I wil powre out of my Sprite in those dayes, and they shal prophecie. [19] And I wil shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneth, bloud, and fire, and the vapour of smoke. [20] The sunne shalbe turned into darknes, and the mone into bloud, before that great and notable day of the Lord come. [21] And it shalbe, that whosoeuer shall call on the name of the Lord, shalbe saued.

[22] Ye men of Israel heare these wordes, That IESVS of Nazaret, a man approued of God among you with notable workes, and wondres, and signes, which God dyd by hym in the myddes of you, as ye your selues knowe: [23] Him I say haue ye taken by the handes of vnrighteous personnes, after he was deliuered by the determinat counsel, and fore knowledge of God, and haue crucified and slayne: [24] Whome God hath raised vp, and loosed the sorrowes of death, because it was vnpossible that he should be holden of it. [25] For Dauid speaketh of hym, I beheld the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my ryght hand, that I should not be moued. [28] Thou hast shewed me the wayes of life, and shalt make me full of ioye with thy countenance.

[29] Men and brethren, I may freely speake vnto you of the Patriarche Dauid, For he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre remayneth with vs vnto this day. [30] Therfore, seyng he was a Prophet, and knewe that God had sworne with an othe to hym, that Christe, as concerning the fleshe, should come of the frute of his loynes, and syt on hys seat, [31] He knowyng this before, spake of the resurrection of Christe, That his soule should not be left in graue, nether his fleshe shulde se corruption. [32] This Iesus hath God raysed vp, wher of we all are wytnesses.

[33] Since now that he by the ryght hand of God hath bene exalted, and hath receaued of his Father the promise of the holy Gost, he hath shed forth this which ye now se and heare. [34] For Dauid is not ascendid into heauen, but he sayeth, The Lord sayd to my Lord, Syt at my ryght hand, [35] Vntyl I make thy foes thy fote stole. [36] So therfore, let al the house of Israel knowe for a suerty, that God hath made him both Lord, and Christe, this Iesus I say whome ye haue crucified. [37] When they heard this, they were pricked in their hartes, and sayd vnto Peter and vnto the other Apostles, Men and brethren, what shal we do? [38] Then Peter sayd vnto them, Amend your liues, and be baptized vp loosing the sorovves of hel, according as it vvas impossible that he should be holden of it. [25] For Dauid saith concerning him, I foresavv the Lord in my sight alvvaies: because he is at my right hand that I be not moued. [26] For this, my hart hath been glad and my tongue hath reioyced: moreouer my flesh also shal rest in hope. [27] Because thou vvilt not leaue my soul in hel, nor giue thy Holy one to see corruption. [28] Thou hast made knovven to me the vvaies of life: thou shalt make me ful of ioyfulnes vvith thy face.

[29] Ye men, brethren, let me boldly speake to you of the Patriarch Dauid: that he died, and vvas buried: and his sepulchre is vvith vs vntil this present day. [30] Vvhereas therfore he vvas a Prophet, and knevv that by an othe God had svvorne to him that of the fruite of his loynes there should sit vpon his seate: [31] forseeing he spake of the resurrection of Christ, for neither vvas he left in hel, neither did his flesh see corruption. [32] This IESVS hath God raised againe, vvhereof al vve are vvitnesses.

[33] Being exalted therfore by the right hand of God, and hauing receiued of his father the promisse of the holy Ghost, he hath povvred out this vvhom you see and heare. [34] For Dauid ascended not into heauen: but he saith, Our Lord hath said to my Lord, sit on my right hand, [35] vntil I make thine enemies the footestoole of thy feete. [36] Therfore let al the house of Israël know most certainly that God hath made him both Lord, and CHRIST, this IESVS, vvhom you haue crucified.

[37] And hearing these things, they were compuncte in hart, and said to Peter and to the rest of the Apostles, Vvhat shal vve doe men, brethren? [38] But Peter said to them, Doe penance, and be euery one hath raised vp, hauing loosed the paines of death: because it was not possible that hee should bee holden of it. [25] For Dauid speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord alwayes before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moued. [26] Therefore did my heart reioyce, and my tongue was glad: Moreouer also, my flesh shall rest in hope, [27] Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy one to see corruption. [28] Thou hast made knowen to mee the wayes of life, thou shalt make mee full of ioy with thy countenance. [29] Men and brethren, [a]let me freely speake vnto you of the Patriarch Dauid, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day: [30] Therefore being a Prophet, and knowing that God had sworne with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loines, according to the flesh, hee would raise vp Christ, to sit on his throne: [31] He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soule was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption. [32] This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses. [33] Therfore being by the right hand of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the Father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and heare. [34] For Dauid is not ascended into the heauens, but he saith himselfe, The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, [35] Untill I make thy foes thy footstoole. [36] Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Iesus, whom ye haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

[37] Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said vnto Peter, and to the rest of the Apostles, Men and brethren, What shall we doe? [38] Then Peter said vnto them, Repent, and be

[12] Nether is ther saluation in any other: For among men there is geuen none other Name vnder heauen, wher by we must be saued.	[8] Then Peter replenished vvith the holy Ghost, said to them, Ye princes of the people and Auncients: [9] If vve this day be examined for a good deede vpon an impotent man, in vvhat he hath been made whole, [10] be it knovven to al you and to al the people of Israël, that in the name of IESVS CHRIST of Nazareth, vvhom you did crucifie, vvhom God hath raised from the dead, in this same this man standeth before you vvhole. [11] This is the stone that vvas reiected of you the builders: vvhich is made into the head of the corner. [12] and there is not saluation in any other. for neither is there any other name vnder heauen giuen to men, vvherein vve must be saued.	[8] Then Peter filled with the holy Ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, and Elders of Israel, [9] If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what meanes he is made whole, [10] Be it knowen vnto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, euen by him doeth this man stand here before you, whole. [14] And beholding also the man which was healed standing with them, they could not saie against it. [15] Then they commanded them to go a side out of the Counsel, and counseled among them selues, [16] Saying, What shal we do to these men? For a manifest signe is done by them, and is openly knowen to all them that dwel in Ierusalem: and we cannot deny it. [17] But that it be noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake hence forth to no man in this Name. [18] And they called them, and commanded them that in no wise, they shulde speake or teache, in the Name of Iesus.	[13] And seeing Peters constancie and Iohns, vnderstanding that they vvere men vnlettered, and of the vulgar sort, they marueled, and they knew them that they had been vvith IESVS: [14] seeing the man also that had been cured, standing vvith them, they could say nothing to the contrarie. THERE was a certaine man in Cesarea, called Cornelius a Centurion of the band called the Italian band, 2 A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed to God alway. 3 He saw in a vision euidently, about the ninth houre of the day, an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius. 4 And when he looked on him, hee was afraid, and sayd, What is it, Lord? And he said vnto him, Thy praiers and thine almes are come vp for a memorial before God. 5 And now send men to Ioppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter. 6 Hee lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the Sea side; he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe. 7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his houshold seruants, & a deuout souldier of them that waited on him continually. 8 And when hee had declared all these things vnto them, he sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morrow as they went on their iourney, and drew nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixt houre. 10 And he became very hungry, and would haue eaten: But while they made ready, he fell into a traunce, 11 And he saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessell descending vnto him, as it had been a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth: 12 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the ayre. 13 And there came a voyce to him, Rise, Peter: kill, and eate. 14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voyce spake vnto him againe the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common. 16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was receiued vp againe into heauen. 17 Now while Peter doubted in himselfe what this

My sonne art thou, this day haue I begotten thee. [34] And that he raised him vp from the dead, not to returne novv any more into corruption, thus he said, That I vvil giue you the holy things of Dauid faithful. [35] And therfore in an other place also he saith, Thou shalt not giue thy holy one to see corruption. [36] For Dauid in his generation vvhen he had serued, according to the vvil of God slept: and he vvas laid to his fathers and savv corruption. [37] But he vvhom God hath raised vp, savv no corruption.

[38] Be it knovven therfore to you, men brethren, that through him, forgiuenesse of sinnes is preached to you, from al the things from the vvhich you could not be iustified by the lavv of Moyses. [39] In him euery one that beleeueth is iustified. [40] Take heede therfore lest that come vpon you vvhich is spoken in the prophets, [41] See ye contemners, and vvonder, and perish: because I vvorke a vvorke in your daies, a vvorke vvhich you vvil not beleeue, if any man shal tel it you.

[42] And they going forth, they desired them that the Sabboth folovving they would speake vnto them these wordes. [43] And vvhen the synagogue vvas dimissed, many of the Iewes, and of the strangers seruing God, folovved Paul and Barnabas: vvho speaking exhorted them to continue in the grace of God. [44] But the next Sabboth the vvhole citie almost assembled to heare the vvord of God.

[45] And the Ievves seing the multitudes, vvere replenished vvith enuy, and contradicted those things vvhich vvere said of Paul, blaspheming. [46] Then Paul and Barnabas constantly said, To you it behoued vs first to speake the vvord of God: but because you repell it, and iudge your selues vnvvorthie of eternal life: behold

[13] And when they helde their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men and brethren hearken vnto me. [14] Simeon tolde, how God at the beginning did visit the Gentils, to take of them a people vnto his Name. [15] And to this agreeth the wordes of the Prophetes, as it is written. [21] For Moses of olde tyme hath in euery citie them that preache him, being read in the Synagoges euery Sabbath day.	[12] And al the multitude held their peace: and they heard Barnabas and Paul telling vvhat great signes and vvonders God had done among the Gentiles by them. [13] And after they held their peace, Iames ansvvered, saying, Men brethren, heare me. [14] Simon hath told hovv God first visited to take of the Gentiles a people to his name. [15] And to this accord the vvordes of the prophets, as it is written: [16] After these things I vvil returne, and vvil reedifie the tabernacle of Dauid, vvhich vvas fallen, and the ruines thereof I vvil reedifie, and set it vp: [17] that the residue of men may seeke after the Lord, and al nations vpon vvhom my name is inuocated, saith the Lord that doeth these things. [18] To our Lord vvas his ovvne vvorke knovven from the beginning of the vvorld. [19] For the vvhich cause I iudge, that they vvhich of the Gentiles are conuerted to God, are not to be disquieted, [20] but to vvrite vnto them that they refraine them selues from the contaminations of Idols, and fornication, and strangled things, and bloud. [21] For Moyses of old times hath in euery citie them that preach him in the synagogs, vvhere he is read euery Sabboth.	[12] Then all the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them. [13] And after they had helde their peace, Iames answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me. [14] Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visite the Gentiles to take out of them a people for his Name. [15] And to this agree the words of the Prophets, as it is written, [16] After this I will returne, and wil build again the Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and I will build againe the ruines thereof, and I will set it vp: [17] That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, vpon whom my Name is called, sayth the Lord, who doeth all these things. men out of them, and to send to Antioche vvith Paul and Barnabas, Iudas, vvho vvas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, cheefe men among the brethren, [23] vvriting by their handes.

The Apostles and Auncients, the brethren, to the brethren of the Gentiles that are at Antioche and in Syria and Cilicia, greeting. [24] Because vve haue heard that certaine going forth from vs, haue troubled you vvith vvordes, subuerting your soules, to vvhom vve gaue no commaundement: [25] It hath pleased vs being gathered in one, to chose out men and to send them vnto you vvith our deerest Barnabas and Paul, [26] men that haue giuen their liues for the name of our Lord IESVS CHRIST: [27] Vve haue sent therfore Iudas and Silas, vvho them selues also vvil in vvordes report vnto you the same things. [28] For it hath seemed good to the holy Ghost and to us, to lay no further burden vpon you then these necessarie things: [29] that you absteine from the things immolated to Idols, and bloud, and that vvhich is strangled, and fornication, from the vvhich things keeping your selues, you shal doe vvell. Fare ye vvel.

[30] They therfore being dismissed vvent dovvne to Antioche: and gathering the multitude, deliuered the epistle. [31] Vvhich vvhen they had read, they reioyced vpon the consolation: [32] but Iudas and Silas, them Selues also being prophets, vvith many vvordes comforted the brethren, and confirmed them. [33] And hauing spent some time there, they vvere vvith peace dimissed of the brethren vnto them that had sent them. [34] But it seemed good vnto Silas to remaine there: and Iudas departed alone: [35] And Paul and Barnabas taried at Antioche, teaching and euangelizing vvith many others the vvord of our Lord.

company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: namely, Iudas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chiefe men among the brethren, [23] And wrote letters by them after this maner, The Apostles and Elders, and brethren, send greeting vnto the brethren, which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia. [24] Forasmuch as wee haue heard, that certaine which went out from vs, haue troubled you with words, subuerting your soules, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the Law, to whom we gaue no such commandement: [25] It seemed good vnto vs, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul, [26] Men that haue hazarded their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ. 37 And Barnabas gaue counsel to take with them Iohn, called Marke. 38 But Paul thoght it not mete to take him vnto their companye, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.	37 And Barnabas vvould haue taken vvith them Iohn also that vvas surnamed Marke. 38 But Paul desired that he (as vvho had departed from them out of Pamphylia, and had not gone vvith them to the vvorke) might not be receiued.	37 And Barnabas determined to take with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke. 38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them; who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.
39 And then was their angre so sharpe, that they departed a sunder one from the other: so that Barnabas toke Marke, and sayled vnto Cyprus.	39 And there rose a dissention, so that they departed one from an other, and that Barnabas in deede taking Marke sailed to Cypres.	39 And the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.
40 And Paul chose Silas and departed, beyng commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.	40 But Paul chosing Silas departed, being deliuered of the brethren to the grace of God.	40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren vnto the grace of God.
41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, stablisshing the Churches.	41 And he vvalked through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the Churches: commaunding them to keepe the præcepts of the Apostles and the Auncients.	41 And he went thorow Syria and Cilicia, confirming the Churches.
16. THEN came he to Derbe and to Lystra: and beholde, a certaine disciple was there named Timotheus, a womans sonne, which was a Iewe and beleued, but his father was a Greke.	16. AND he came to Derbé and Lystra. And behold, there vvas a certaine disciple there named Timothee, the sonne of a vvidovv vvoman that beleeued, of a father a Gentile.	16. THEN came hee to Derbe, and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, the sonne of a certain woman which was a Iewesse, and beleeued: but his father was a Greeke:
2 Of whom reported wel the brethren of Lystra and of Iconium.	2 To this man the brethren that vvere in Lystra and Iconium, gaue a good testimonie.	2 Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.
3 Paul wolde that he shulde go forth with him, and toke and circumcised him, because of the Iewes, which were in those quarters: for they knew all, that his father was a Greke.	3 Him Paul vvould haue to goe forth vvith him: and taking him he circumcised him because of the Ievves that vvere in those places. For they al knevv that his father vvas a Gentile.	3 Him would Paul haue to go forth with him, and tooke, and circumcised him, because of the Iewes which were in those quarters: for they knew all, that his father was a Greeke.
4 As they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to kepe, ordeined of the Apostles, and Elders, which were at Ierusalem.	4 And vvhen they passed through the cities, they deliuered vnto them to keepe the decrees that vvere decreed of the Apostles and Auncients which were at Hierusalem.	4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were ordeined of the Apostles and Elders, which were at Hierusalem.
5 And so were the Churches stablisshed in the faith, and encreased in noumbre dayly.	5 And the Churches vvere confirmed in faith, and did abound in number daily.	5 And so were the Churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.
6 When they had gone through out Phrygia, and the region of Galacia, and were forbydden of the holy Gost to preache the worde in Asia.	6 And passing through Phrygia and the countrie of Galatia, they vvere forbidden by the holy Ghost to preach the vvord in Asia.	6 Now when they had gone thorowout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,
7 They came to Mysia, and soght to go into Bithynia: but the Sprite suffred them not.	7 And vvhen they vvere come into Mysia, they attempted to goe into Bithynia: and the Spirit of IESVS permitted them not.	7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to goe into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered him not.
8 Then they went ouer Mysia, and came doune to Troas.	8 And vvhen they had passed through Mysia, they vvent dovvne to Troas:	8 And they passing by Mysia, came downe to Troas.
9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the nyght, There stode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come in to Macedonia, and helpe vs.	9 and a vision by night vvas shevved to Paul: There vvas a certaine man of Macedónia standing and beseeching him, and saying, passe into Macedónia, and helpe vs.	9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come ouer into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

we endeuoured to goe into Macedonia, assuredly gathering, that the Lord had called vs for to preach the Gospel vnto them. 11 Therfore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis: 12 And from thence to Philippi, which is [a] the chiefe city of that part of Macedonia, and a Colony: and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes. 13 And on the Sabbath we went out of the citie by a riuer side, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sate down, and spake vnto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended vnto the things which were spoken of Paul. 15 And when she was baptized, and her houshold, she besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfull to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certaine Damosell possessed with a spirit of [β] diuination, met vs: which brought her masters much gaine by soothsaying. 17 The same followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most hie God, which shew vnto vs the way of saluation. 18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul being grieued, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Iesus Christ, to come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 And when her masters sawe that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them vnto the [γ] market place, vnto the rulers, 20 And brought them to the magistrats, saying, These men being Iewes, doe exceedingly trouble our citie, 21 And teach customes which are not lawfull for vs to receiue,

And they vvere afraid hearing that they vvere Romanes: [39] and comming they besought them, and bringing them forth they desired them to depart out of the citie. [40] And going out of the prison, they entred in vnto Lydia: and hauing seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

17. AND vvhen they had vvalked through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, vvhere there vvas a synagogue of the Ievves. [2] And Paul according to his custome entred in vnto them, and three Sabboths he discoursed to them out of the Scriptures, [3] declaring and insinuating that it behoued CHRIST to suffer and to rise againe from the dead: and that this is IESVS CHRIST, vvhom I preach to you. [4] And certaine of them beleeued, and vvere ioyned to Paul and Silas, and of the Gentiles that serued God a great multitude, and noble vvomen not a fevv. [5] But the Ievves enuying, and taking vnto them of the rascal sort certaine naughtie men, and making a tumult stirred the citie: and besetting Iasons house, sought to bring them forth vnto the people. [6] And not finding them, they drevv Iason and certaine brethren to the princes of the citie, crying, That these are they that stirre vp the vvorld, and are come hither, [7] vvhom Iason hath receiued, and al these doe against the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is an other king, IESVS. therfore depart, and goe in peace. [37] But Paul said vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romanes, and haue cast vs into prison, and now doe they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verely, but let them come themselues, and fetch vs out. [38] And the Sergeants tolde these words vnto the Magistrates: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes. [39] And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie. [40] And they went out of the prison, and entred into the house of Lydia, and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

17. NOW when they had passed thorow Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Iewes. [2] And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes reasoned with them out of the Scriptures, [3] Opening and alleadging, that Christ must needs haue suffered and risen againe from the dead: and that this Iesus whome I preach vnto you, is Christ. [4] And some of them beleeued, and consorted with Paul and Silas: and of the deuout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

[5] But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine lewd fellowes of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the citie on an vprore, and assaulted the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people. [6] And when they found them not, they drew Iason, and certaine brethren vnto the rulers of the citie, crying, These that haue turned the world vpside downe, are come hither also, [7] Whom Iason hath receiued: and these all doe contrary to the decrees of Cesar, saying, that there is another King, one Iesus. [8] And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the citie, when they heard these

[23] For as I passed by, and behelde the maner how ye worshyp your goddes, I founde an aulter wherin was written, VNTO THE VNKNOWEN GOD. Whome ye then ignorantly worshyp, him shewe I vnto you.

[24] God that made the worlde, and all that is in it: seying that he is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made wyth handes. [25] Nether is worshipped with mens handes, as thogh he needed any thing, seing he geueth to all, lyfe and breath and all thinges: [26] And hath made of one bloud all man kynde, for to dwel on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned the tymes which were ordeyned before, and the endes of their inhabitation. [27] That they shulde seke God, yf they myght fele, and fynde hym, thogh douteles he be not farre from euery one of vs. [28] For in him we lyue, moue, and haue our being, as also certayne of your owne Poetes haue sayd, For we are also his generation.

[29] For as muche then, as we are the generation of God, we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is lyke vnto golde, syluer, or stone grauen by crafte and imagination of man. [30] And the tyme of this ignorance, God regarded not. But now he biddeth all men, euery where repent. [31] Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he wil iudge the world according to righteousnes, by that man whom he hath appointed, which thing he made manifest to all men, in that he raysed him from death. [32] When they heard of the resurrection from death, some mocked: and other sayd, We wyl heare thee agayne of this matter. [33] So Paul departed from among them. [34] Howbeit certayne men

Ye men of Athens, in al things I perceiue you as it vvere superstitious. [23] For passing by and seeing your Idols, I found an altar also vvherevpon vvas vvritten, To the vnknovven God. That therfore vvhich you vvorshippe, not knovving it, the same do I preach to you. [24] The God that made the vvorld and al things that are in it, he being Lord of heauen and earth, dvvelleth not in temples made vvith hand, [25] neither is he serued vvith mens hands, needing any thing, vvhereas him self giueth life vnto al, and breathing, and al things: [26] and he made of one al mankinde, to inhabite vpon the vvhole face of the earth, assigning set times, and the limits of their habitation, [27] for to seeke God, if happily they may feele or finde him, although he be not farre from euery one of vs. [28] For in him vve liue and moue and be, as certaine also of your ovvne poëtes said, For of his kinde also vve are. [29] Being therfore of Gods kinde, vve may not suppose, the Diuinitie to be like vnto gold or siluer, or stone, the grauing of art and deuise of man. [30] And the times truely of this ignorance vvhereas God dispised, novv he denounceth vnto men that al euery vvhere doe penance, [31] for that he hath appointed a day wherein he vvil iudge the vvorld in equitie, by a man vvhom he hath appointed, giuing al men faith, raysing him vp from the dead.

[32] And vvhen they had heard the resurrection of the dead, certaine in deede mocked, but certaine said, Vve vvil heare thee againe concerning this point. [33] So Paul vvent forth out of the middes of them. [34] But certaine men ioyning vnto these things meane. [21] (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to heare some new thing.)

[22] Then Paul stood in the mids of [α] Mars-hill, and said, Yee men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things yee are too superstitious. [23] For as I passed by, and beheld your [β] deuotions, I found an Altar with this inscription, TO THE VNKNOWEN GOD. Whom therefore yee ignorantly worship, him declare I vnto you. [24] God that made the world, and all things therein, seeing that hee is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in Temples made with hands: [25] Neither is worshipped with mens hands as though he needed any thing, seeing hee giueth to all, life and breath, and all things, [26] And hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation: [27] That they should seeke the Lord, if haply they might feele after him and finde him, though he be not farre from euery one of vs. [28] For in him we liue, and mooue, and haue our being, as certaine also of your owne Poets haue said, For we are also his offspring. [29] Forasmuch then as wee are the offspring of God, wee ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto golde, or siluer, or stone grauen by arte, and mans deuice. [30] And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men euery where to repent: [31] Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man whom hee hath ordeined, whereof he [γ] hath giuen assurance vnto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

[32] And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, Wee will heare thee againe of this matter. [33] So Paul departed from among them. [34] Howbeit, certaine men claue vnto

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayd vnto the Iewes, Yf it were a matter of wronge, or an euyl dede (ò ye Iewes) I would according to reason heare you.	14 And Paul beginning to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Ievves, If it vvere some vniust thing, or an heinous facte, O you men Ievves, I should by reason beare you.	14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdnesse, O yee Iewes, reason would that I should beare with you.
15 But yf it be a question of wordes, and names, and of your Lawe, loke ye to it your selues: for I wil be no iudge in suche matters.	15 But if they be questions of vvord and names, and of your lavv, your selues looke vnto it: I vvil not be iudge of these things.	15 But if it bee a question of words, and names, and of your law, looke ye to it: for I wil be no iudge of such matters.
16 And he draue them from the seat.	16 And he droue them from the iudgement seate.	16 And he draue them from the iudgment seat.
17 Then toke all the Greekes Sosthenes the chief Ruler of the Synagoge, and bet him before the iudges seat: but Gallio cared for none of those thinges.	17 And al apprehending Sósthenes the prince of the synagogue, strooke him before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared for none of those things.	17 Then all the Greekes tooke Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the Iudgement seat: and Gallio cared for none of those things.
18 Paul after this, taried there yet a good whyle, and then toke his leaue of the brethren, and sayled thence into Syria. (Priscilla and Aquila accompaniyng him) after that he had shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.	18 But Paul vvhen he had staied yet many daies, taking his leaue of the brethren, sailed to Syria, (and vvith him Priscilla and Aquila,) vvho had shorne his head in Cenchris. for he had a vovv.	18 And Paul after this taried there yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila: hauing shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.
19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he entred into the Synagoge, and reasoned with the Iewes.	19 And he came vnto Ephesus, and them he left there. But him self entring into the synagogue, disputed vvith the Ievves.	19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himselfe entred into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.
20 When they desired him to tary longer tyme with them, he consented not.	20 And vvhen they desired him, that he vvould tarie a longer time, he consented not,	20 When they desired him to tary longer time with them, hee consented not:

of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we haue our wealth. [26] Moreouer, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying, that they bee no gods, which are made with hands. [27] So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought: but also that the Temple of the great goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia, and the world worshippeth.

13 And we went afore to shyp, and sailed vnto the citie Assos, there to receaue Paul: for so had he appoynted, and would hym selfe go a fote. 14 When he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receaued him, we came to Mitylenes. 15 And we sayled thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios. and the next day we arriued at Samos: and taried at Trogyllium, the next day we came to Miletum. 16 For Paul had determined to leaue Ephesus as they sayled, because he would not spend the tyme in Asia: for he hasted to be, yf he could possible, at Ierusalem, at the day of Pentecost.	13 But vve going vp into the ship, sailed to Asson, from thence meaning to receiue Paul. for so he had ordained, him self purposing to iourney by land. 14 And vvhen he had found vs in Asson, taking him vvith vs vve came to Mityléne. 15 And sailing thence, the day folovving vve came ouer against Chios: and the other day vve arriued at Samos: and the day folovving vve came to Milétum. 16 for Paul had purposed to saile leauing Ephesus, lest any stay should be made him in Asia. For he hastened, if it vvere possible for him, to keepe the day of Pentecost at Hierusalem.	13 And wee went before to ship, and sailed vnto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had hee appointed, minding himselfe to goe afoot. 14 And when he met with vs at Assos, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene. 15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: and the next day we came to Miletus. 16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because hee would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.
17 Wherfore from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Churche. 18 Which when they were come to hym, he said vnto them, Ye knowe from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons: 19 Seruyng the Lord with all modestie, and with many teares, and tentations, which happened vnto me by the layinges awayt of the Iewes. 20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable, but haue shewed you, and taught you openly, and throughout euery house, 21 Witnessing both to the Iewes, and also to the Grekes, the repentance towarde God, and fayth towarde our Lord Iesus. 22 And now beholde I go bounde in the sprite vnto Ierusalem, and knowe not what shal come on me there. 23 But that the holy Gost witnesseth in euery citie saying, That bandes and trouble abyde me. 24 But	17 And sending from Milétum to Ephesus, he called the Auncients of the Church. 18 Vvho being come to him, and assembled together, he said to them, You knovv from the first day that I entred into Asia, in vvhat maner I haue been vvith you al the time, 19 seruing our Lord vvith al humilitie and teares, and tentations that did chaunce to me by the conspiracies of the Ievves: 20 Hovv I haue vvithdravven nothing that vvas profitable, but that I preached it to you, and taught you openly and from house to house, 21 testifying to Ievves and Gentils penance tovvard God and faith in our Lord IESVS CHRIST. 22 And novv behold, being bound by the spirit, I goe to Hierusalem: not knovving vvhat things shal befall me in it, 23 but that the Holy Ghost through out al cities doth protest to me, saying: that bands and tribulations abide me at Hierusalem. 24 But	17 And from Miletus hee sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church. 18 And when they were come to him, he said vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons, 19 Seruing the Lord with all humilitie of minde, and with many teares, and temptations, which befell mee by the lying in wait of the Iewes: 20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you publikely, and from house to house, 21 Testifying both to the Iewes and also to the Greekes, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ. 22 And now beholde, I goe bound in the spirit vnto Hierusalem, not knowing the things that shal befall me there: 23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery city, saying that bonds and afflictions [a] abide me. 24 But none of

and with great violence tooke him away out of our hands: [8] Commanding his accusers to come vnto thee: by examining of whom thy selfe mayest take knowledge of all these things whereof we accuse him. [9] And the Iewes also assented, saying that these things were so.

[10] Then Paul, after that the gouernour had beckoned vnto him to speake, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many yeeres a Iudge vnto this nation, I do the more cheerefully answere for my selfe: [11] Because that thou mayest vnderstand, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worship. [12] And they neither found me in the Temple disputing with any man, neither raising vp the people, neither in the Synagogues, nor in the citie. [13] Neither can they proue the things whereof they now accuse me. [14] But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things which are written in the Law and the Prophets,

[15] And haue hope towards God, which they themselues also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the iust and vniust. [16] And herein doe I exercise my selfe to haue alwayes a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men. [17] Now after many yeeres, I came to bring almes to my nation, and offrings: [18] Whereupon certaine Iewes from Asia found me purified in the Temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult:

day sitting in the Iudgment seat, commanded Paul to be brought. [7] And when he was come, the Iewes which came downe from Hierusalem, stood round about, and layd many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not proue, [8] While he answered for himselfe, Neither against the law of the Iewes, neither against the Temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all. [9] But Festus willing to doe the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me? [10] Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars iudgement seat, where I ought to bee iudged; to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest. [11] For if I be an offender, or haue committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto Cesar. [12] Then Festus when he had conferred with the Councill, answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

[13] And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus. [14] And when they had beene there many dayes, Festus declared Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in bonds by Felix: [15] About whom when I was at Hierusalem, the chiefe Priests and the Elders of the Iewes enformed me, desiring to haue iudgment against him. [16] To whom I answered, It is not the maner of the Romanes to deliuer any man to die, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answere for himselfe concerning the crime laid against him. [17] Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay, on the morrow I sate on the iudgement seate, and commanded the man to be brought forth. before thee, of all the thinges wherof I am accused of the Iewes. 3 Namely, bycause thou art experte in all customes, and questions which are among the Iewes. wherfore, I besech thee to heare me paciently. As touching the life that I haue led from a childe,

4 And what it was from the begynning among mine owne nation at Ierusalem, know all the Iewes, 5 Which knew me here to fore (if they would testifie) that after the most strayctest sect of our religion I liued a Pharise. 6 And now I stand and am accused, for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers. 7 Vnto which promise, our twelue tribes instantly seruyng God day and night, hope to come: for which hopes sake, Kyng Agrippa, am I accused of the Iewes. 8 Why should it be thoght a thing incredible vnto you, that God should rayse agayne the dead? 9 I also verely thoght it my selfe, that I ought to do many contrary thinges, cleane against the Name of Iesus of Nazaret. 10 Which thyng I also did in Ierusalem: for many of the sainctes I shut vp in prison, hauing receaued auctoritie of the hye Priestes: and when they were put to death I gaue the sentence.

11 And I punished them oft in euery Synagoge, and compelled them to blaspheme: and was yet more mad against them, and persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities. 12 At which tyme, as I went to Damascus with autoritie, and commission from the hye Priestes, 13 Euen at midday ò Kyng, I saw in the way a light from heauen, farre passing the brightnes of the sunne, shyne round about me, and them which iorneyed with me.

14 So when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speakyng vnto me, and saying in the Hebrue tonge, Saul Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against pryckes. 15 And I sayd, Who art thou Lord? And he sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest. 16 But ryse and stand vp on thy fete: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witnes, both of those thinges whych thou hast sene, and of those thinges in the which I wil appeare vnto thee, [17] Deliuering thee from this people, and from the Gentils, vnto whome now I send thee, [18] To open their eyes, that they may tourne from darknesse to lyght, and frome the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receaue forgeuenes of synnes, and inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

[19] Wherfore Kyng Agrippa I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision. to thee, that I may ordaine thee a minister and vvitnes of those things vvhich thou hast seen, and of those things vvherein I vvil appeare to thee, [17] deliuering thee out of the peoples and nations vnto the vvhich novv I send thee, [18] to open their eies, that they may be conuerted from darkenes to light, and from the povver of Satan to God, that they may receiue remission of sinnes and lot among the saincts by the faith that is in me.

[19] Vvherevpon, king Agrippa, I vvas not incredulous to the heauenly vision: [20] but to them first that are at Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and vnto al the countrie of Ievvrie, and to the Gentiles did I preach that they should doe penance, and turne to God, doing vvorkes vvorthie of penance. [21] For this cause the Ievves, vvhen I vvas in the temple, apprehending me, attempted meaning to kil me. [22] But aided by the help of God, I stand vntil this day, testifying to small and to great, saying nothing beside those things vvhich the Prophets did speake should come to passe, and Moyses, [23] if CHRIST vvere passible, if the first of the resurrection from the dead, he vvere to shevv light to the people and to the Gentiles.

[24] As he spake these things and made his ansvver, Festus vvith a loud voice said, Thou art mad, Paul: much learning turneth thee to madnesse. [25] And Paul said, I am not mad, most excellent Festus: but I speake vvordes of veritie and sobrietie. [26] for the king knovveth of these things, to vvhom also I speake constantly. for I thinke none of these things to be vnknovven to him. For neither vvas any of these things done in a corner. [27] Beleeuest thou the prophets, king Agrippa? I knovv that thou beleeuest. [28] And Agrippa said to Paul: A litle thou persuadest me to become a CHRISTIAN. to strengthen you with all. [12] That is, that I might receaue exhortation together with you, through the commen faith, which both ye and I haue. [13] Now my brethern I wolde that ye shuld not be ignorant, how that I haue often tymes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene let hyther to) that I might haue some frute also among you, as I haue amonge other of the Gentils. [14] I am detter both to the Grekes, and to them which are no Grekes, vnto the wise-men, and vnto the ignorant. [15] Therfore, as muche as in me is, I am redy to preache the Gospel to you that are at Rome also. [16] For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christe, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleue, to the Iewe fyrst, and also to the Greke. [17] For by it, the ryghtuousnes of God, is opened, from fayth to fayth: as it is written, The iust shal lyue by fayth. [18] For the wrath of God manifestly apeareth from heauen against all vngodlynes and vnrightuousnes of men, because they withholde the truth vniustely:

[19] Seyng that, which may be knowen of God, is manifest with in them: for God hathe shewed it vnto them. [20] For hys inuisible thynges, that is to say, his eternal power and Godhead, are vnderstand and sene, by the things made from the creation of the world to thintent that they shulde be wythout excuse: [21] Because that when they knewe God, they glorified him not as God, nether were thankful, but waxed ful of vanities in their imaginations, and their folishe heartes were blynded. [22] When they counted them selues wise, they became foles: [23] For they turned the glorie of the incorruptible God, to the similitude of the image of mortal man, and of byrdes, and foure foted beastes, and of creeping beastes. [24] Wherfore, God gaue them euen vp vnto their heartes lust, vnto vnclennes, to defyle their owne bodyes betwene them selues: [25] Which turned the trueth of God vnto a lye, and comforted together in you by that vvhich is common to vs both, your faith and mine. [13] And I vvil not haue you ignorant (brethren) that I haue often purposed to come vnto you (and haue been staied hitherto) that I may haue some fruite in you, as also in the other Gentiles. [14] To the Greekes and the Barbarous, to the vvise and the vnvvise I am detter. [15] so (as much as is in me) I am ready to euangelize to you also that are at Rome.

[16] For I am not ashamed of the Gospel. For it is the povver of God, vnto saluation to euery one that beleeueth, to the Ievve first and to the Greeke. [17] For the iustice of God is reuealed therein by faith into faith: as it is vvritten: And the iust liueth by faith.

[18] For the vvrath of God from heauen is reuealed, vpon al impietie and iniustice of those men that deteine the veritie of God in iniustice: [19] because, that of God vvhich is knovven, is manifest in them. For God hath manifested it vnto them. [20] For his inuisible things, from the creation of the vvorld are seen, being vnderstoode by those things that are made: his eternal povver also and Diuinitie: so that they are inexcusable. [21] Because, vvhereas they knevve God, they haue not glorified him as God, or giuen thankes: but are become vaine in their cogitations, and their folish hart hath been darkened. [22] for, saying them selues to be vvise, they became fooles.

[23] And they changed the glorie of the incorruptible God, into a similitude of the image of a corruptible man, and of foules and foure-footed beastes and of them that creepe. [24] (For the vvhich cause God hath deliuered them vp vnto the desires of their hart, into vncleannesse, for to abuse their owne bodies among them selues ignominiously.) [25] vvho haue changed the veritie of God into lying: and haue established, [12] That is, that I may bee comforted [α] with you, by the mutuall faith both of you and me.

[13] Now I would not haue you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come vnto you, (but was let hitherto) that I might haue some fruit [α] among you also, euen as among other Gentiles. [14] I am debter both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise, and to the vnwise. [15] So, as much as in mee is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also. [16] For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God vnto saluation, to euery one that beleeueth, to the Iew first, and also to the Greeke. [17] For therein is the righteousnesse of God reueiled from faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shall liue by faith. [18] For the wrath of God is reueiled from heauen against all vngodlinesse, and vnrighteousnesse of men, who hold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse. [19] Because that which may bee knowen of God, is manifest [β] in them, for God hath shewed it vnto them.

[20] For the inuisible things of him from the Creation of the world, are clearely seene, being vnderstood by the things that are made, euen his eternall Power and Godhead, [γ] so that they are without excuse: [21] Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankefull, but became vaine in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened: [22] Professing themselues to be wise, they became fooles: [23] And changed the glory of the vncorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birdes, and foure footed beasts, and creeping things: [24] Wherefore God also gaue them vp to vncleannesse, through the lusts of their owne hearts, to dishonour their owne bodies betweene themselues: [25] Who changed the trueth of God into a lye, and worshipped and serued the [16] Destruction and miserie are in their wayes: [17] And the way of peace haue they not knowen. [18] There is no feare of God before their eyes. [19] Now we know that what things soeuer the Law saith, it sayth to them who are vnder the Lawe: that euery mouth may bee stopped, and all the world may become [β] guilty before God. [20] Therefore by the deedes of the Law, there shall no flesh be iustified in his sight: for by the Law is the knowledge of sinne.

[18] There is no feare of God before theyr eyes. [19] And we know that whatsoeuer the Lawe sayeth, it sayeth it to them which are vnder the Lawe: that euery mouthe may be stopped, and all the worlde be culpable before God. [20] Therfore by the dedes of the Lawe, shal no fleshe be iustified in his sight. for by the Lawe commeth the knowledge of sinne. [21] But now is the ryghtuousnes of God declared wythout the Lawe, hauyng witnes of the Lawe and of the Prophetes. [22] To wit, the rightuousnes of God by the fayth of Iesus Christe, vnto all, and vpon all that beleue.	[9] Vvhat then? do vve excel them? No, not so. For vve haue argued the Ievves and the Greekes, al to be vnder sinne: [10] as it is vvritten: That there is not any man iust, [11] there is not that vnderstandeth, there is not that seeketh after God. [12] Al haue declined, they are become vnprofitable together: there is not that doeth good, there is not so much as one. [13] Their throte is an open sepulchre, vvith their tonges they dealt deceitfully. The venim of aspes vnder their lippes. [14] Vvhose mouth is ful of malediction and bitternes: [15] Their feete svvift to shede bloud. [16] Destruction and infelicitie in their vvaies: [17] and the vvay of peace they haue not knovven. [18] There is no feare of God before their eies. [19] And vve knovv that vvhatsoeuer the Lavv speaketh, to them it speaketh that are in the Lavv: that euery mouth may be stopped, and al the vvorld may be made subiect to God: [20] because by the vvorkes of the Lavv no flesh shal be iustified before him. For by the Lavv is the knovvledge of sinne.
[21] But now the righteousnesse of God without the Law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the Prophets. [22] Euen the righteousnesse of God, which is by faith of Iesus Christ vnto all, and vpon all them that beleeue: for there is no difference: [23] For all haue sinned, and come short of the glorie of God, [24] Being iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Iesus Christ: [25] Whom God hath [γ] set forth to bee a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousnesse for the [δ] remission of sinnes, that are past, through the forbearance of God. [26] To declare, I say, at this time his	[21] But novv vvithout the Lavv the iustice of God is manifested: testified by the lavv and the Prophets. [22] And the iustice of God by faith of IESVS CHRIST, vnto al and vpon al that beleeue in him. For there is no distinction. [23] For al haue sinned: and doe neede the glorie of God. [24] Iustified gratis by his grace, by the redemption that is in CHRIST IESVS, [25] vvhom God hath proposed a propitiation, by faith in his bloud, to the shevving of his iustice, for the remission of former sinnes, [26] in the toleration of God,	[23] For there is no difference: for all haue synned, and are destitute of the glorie of God. [24] And are iustified frely by hys grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus. [27] Where is then thy reioysinge? It is excluded. By what lawe? by the lawe of workes? Naye: but by the lawe of fayth.

[28] For we suppose that a man is iustified by fayth without the dedes of the lawe. [29] Is he the God of the Iewes only? Is he not also the God of the Gentyls? Yes, even of the Gentyles also. tyme his ryghtuousnesse, that he myght be counted iuste, and a iustifier of him which beleueth on Iesus. [27] Where is then the reioysyng? It is excluded. By what Law? of workes? Nay: but by the Lawe of fayeth. [28] Therfore, we gather that a man is iustified by fayth, wythout the deades of the Lawe. [29] God, is he the God of the Iewes onely, and not of the Gentiles also? to the shevving of his iustice in this time: that he may be iust, and iustifying him that is of the faith of IESVS CHRIST.

[27] Vvhere is then thy boasting? it is excluded. by vvhat lavv? of deedes? No, but by the lavv of faith. [28] For vve account a man to be iustified by faith vvithout the vvorkes of the Lavv. [29] Is he God of the Ievves only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes of the Gentiles also. [30] For it is one God, that iustifieth circumcision by faith, and prepuce by faith. [31] Do vve then destroy the Lavv by faith? God forbid. but vve do establish the Lavv.

4. VVHAT shal vve say then that Abraham did finde, our father according to the flesh? [2] For if Abraham vvere iustified by vvorkes: he hath glorie, but not vvith God. [3] For vvhat saieth the Scripture? Abraham beleeued God, and it vvas reputed him to iustice. [4] But to him that vvorketh, the revvard is not imputed according to grace, but according to dette. [5] But to him that vvorketh not, yet beleeueth in him that iustifieth the impious, his faith is reputed to iustice according to the purpose of the grace of God. [6] As Dauid also termeth the blessednes of a man, to vvhom God reputeth iustice vvithout vvorkes, [7] Blessed are they, vvhose iniquities be forgiuen, and vvhose sinnes be couered. [8] Blessed is the man to vvhom our Lord hath not imputed sinne.

[9] This blessednes then doth it abide in the circumcision, or in the prepuce also? For vve say that vnto Abraham faith vvas reputed to iustice. [10] Hovv vvas it reputed? in circumcision, or in prepuce? Not in circumcision, but in prepuce.

righteousnesse: that hee might bee iust, and the iustifier of him which beleeueth in Iesus.

[27] Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what Law? Of workes? Nay: but by the Law of faith. [28] Therefore wee conclude, that a man is iustified by faith, without the deeds of the Law. [29] Is he the God of the Iewes onely? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also: [30] Seeing it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by faith, and vncircumcision through faith. [31] Doe we then make void the Law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the Law.

4. WHAT shal we say then, that Abraham our father, as perteining to the flesh, hath found? [2] For if Abraham were iustified by workes, hee hath whereof to glory, but not before God. [3] For what saith the Scripture? Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto him for righteousnes.

[4] Now to him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. [5] But to him that worketh not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the vngodly; his faith is counted for righteousnesse. [6] Euen as Dauid also describeth the blessednesse of the man, vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without workes: [7] Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered. [8] Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sinne. [9] Commeth this blessednes then vpon the Circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? for wee say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousnesse. [10] How was it then reckoned? when he was in Circumcision, or in vncircumcision? not in Circumcision, but in vncircumcision. [11] And hee receiued the signe of Circumcision, a seale of the righteousnesse of the faith, which hee had yet being vncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them though they be not circumcised, that rightewesnes myght be imputed to them also: [12] and that he myght be the father of the circumcised, not because they are circumcised only: but because they walke also in the steppes of that fayth that was in oure father Abraham before the tyme of circumcision.

[13] For the promes that he shuld be the heyre of the worlde, was not geven to Abraham or to his seed thorow the lawe: but thorow the rightewesnes which cometh of fayth. [13] For the promes (that he shuld be the heyre of the worlde) happened not to Abraham or to his seed thorow the lawe: but thorow the ryghtewesnes of fayth. [14] For yf they whych are of the lawe, be heyres, then is fayth but vayne, and the promes of none effecte. [15] Because the lawe causeth wrath. For where no lawe is, there is no transgressyon. [16] Therfore by fayth is the inheritaunce geuen, that it might come of fauoure: that the promes might be sure to all the seed. Not to them onely whych are of the lawe: but to them also which are of the fayth of Abraham, which is the father of vs all. of all them that beleue, thogh they be not circumcised, that ryghtuousnes myght be imputed to them also. 12 And that he myght be the father of Circumcision, not vnto them only which are of the circumcised, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the faith that was in our father Abraham, before the tyme of Circumcision. 13 For the promes that he should be the heyre of the worlde, was not geuen to Abraham, or to his seed, through the Lawe: but through the rightuousnes of fayth. 14 For yf they which are of the Lawe, be heyres, then is faith but vayne, and the promes of none effect.

15 For the Lawe causeth wrath. for where no Lawe is, there is no transgression. 16 Therfore by faith is the inheritaunce geuen, that it myght come of fauour, and the promes might be sure to all the sede. that is, not to them only which are of the Lawe: but also to them which are of the fayth of Abraham, which is the father of vs all. 17 (As it is written I haue made thee a father of many nacions) euen before God whom he beleued, which quickeneth the dead, and calleth those thinges which be not, as thogh they were.

of al that beleeue by the prepuce, that vnto them also it may be reputed to iustice: 12 and might be father of circumcision, not to them only that are of the circumcision, but to them also that folovv the steppes of the faith that is in the prepuce of our father Abraham. 13 For not by the Lavv vvas the promisse to Abraham, or to his seede, that he should be heire of the vvorld: but by the iustice of faith.

14 For if they that are of the Lavv, be heires: faith is made voide, the promisse is abolished. 15 For the Lavv vvorketh vvrath. For vvhere is no lavv, neither is there preuarication. 16 Therfore of faith: that according to grace the promisse may be firme to al the seede, not to that only vvhich is of the Lavv, but to that also vvhich is of the faith of Abraham, vvho is the father of vs al, (as it is vvritten: 17 For, a father of many nations haue I appointed thee) before God, vvhom thou didst beleeue, vvho quickeneth the dead: and calleth those things that are not, as those things that are.

that beleeue, though they be not Circumcised; that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also: 12 And the father of Circumcision, to them who are not of the Circumcision onely, but also walke in the steppes of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet vncircumcised.

13 For the promise that he should be the heire of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the Law, but through the righteousnes of faith. 14 For if they which are of the Law be heires, faith is made voyd, and the promise made of none effect. 15 Because the law worketh wrath: for where no Law is, there is no transgression. 16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace; to the ende the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that onely which is of the Law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all, 17 (As it is written, I haue made thee a father of many nations) [a] before him whom he beleeued, euen God who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which bee not, as though they were, 18 Who against hope, beleeued in hope, that hee might become the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be. 19 And being not weake in faith, he considered not his owne body now dead, when hee was about an hundred yeere old, neither yet the deadnesse of Saraes wombe. 20 He staggered not at the promise of God through vnbeleefe: but was strong in faith, giuing glory to God:

21 And being fully perswaded, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe. 22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousnesse. 23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him: 24 But for vs also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we

[2] By whom also we haue accesse through faith, vnto this grace, wherin we stand, and reioyce in hope of the glorie of God. [3] Nether do we so only, but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bryngeth patience. [4] And patience bringeth experience, and experience bringeth hope, [5] And hope maketh not ashamed, for the loue of God is shed abrode in our heartes by the holy Gost, which is geuen vnto vs. [6] For Christe, when we were yet of no-strength, at his tyme dyed for vs, which were vngodly. BEING iustified therfore by faith, let vs haue peace tovvard God by our Lord IESVS CHRIST: [2] by vvhom also vve haue accesse through faith into this grace vvherein vve stand, and glorie, in the hope of the glorie of the sonnes of God. [3] And not only this: but also vve glorie in tribulations, knovving that tribulation vvorketh patience: [4] and patience, probation: and probation, hope. [5] and hope confoundeth not: because the charitie of God is povvred forth in our hartes, by the holy Ghost vvhich is giuen vs. [6] For vvhy did Christ, vvhen vve as yet vvere vveake, according to the time die for the impious? [7] For, scarse for a iust man doth any die: for perhaps for a good man durst some man die. [8] But God commendeth his charitie in vs: because, vvhen as yet vve vvere sinners, Christ died for vs.	5. THEREFORE being iustified by faith, we haue peace with God, through our Lord Iesus Christ. [2] By whom also we haue accesse by faith, into this grace wherein we stand, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God. [3] And not onely so, but we glory in tribulations also, knowing that tribulation worketh patience: [4] And patience, experience: and experience, hope: [5] And hope maketh not ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs. [6] For when we were yet without strength, [a] in due time, Christ died for the vngodly. [7] For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peraduenture for a good man, some would euen dare to die. [8] But God commendeth his loue towards vs, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.
[9] Seing therfore that we are iustified in his bloud, we shal be now muche more saued from wrath through him. [10] For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne, muche more seing we are reconciled, we shalbe preserued by his life. [11] And not only so, but we also reioyse in God by the meanes of our Lord Iesus Christe, by whom we haue now receaued the atonement.	[9] Much more therfore now being iustified in his bloud, shal vve be saued from vvrath by him. [10] For if, vvhen vve vvere enemies, vve vvere reconciled to God by the death of his Sonne: much more being reconciled, shal vve be saued in the life of him. [11] And not only this: but also vve glorie in God through our Lord IESVS Christ, by vvhom novv vve haue receiued reconciliation.	[9] Much more then being now iustified by his blood, we shalbe saued from wrath through him. 16 And the gyfte is not ouer one synne: as deeth cam thorow one synne of one that synned. For damnacyon came of one synne vnto condemnacyon: but the gyft came to iustify from many synnes. 17 For yf by the synne of one, deeth raygned by the meanes of one: moch more they (whych receaue aboundance of grace and of the gyfte of ryghtewesnes) shall raynge in lyfe by the meanes of one (that is to saye) Iesus Christ.

18 Lykewyse then as by the synne of one there sprang vp euell on all men to condemnacyon: euen so by the ryghteousnes of one, spryngeth good vpon all men to the righteousnes of lyfe. 19 For as by one mannes disobedience many became synners: so by the obedyence of one, shall many be made ryghteous. 20 But the lawe in the meane tyme entred in, that synne shuld encreace. Neuerthelater where aboundance of synne was, there was more plenteousnes of grace. 21 That as synne had raygned vnto deeth, euen so myght grace raygne thorow ryghtewesnes, vnto eternall lyfe, by the helpe of Iesu Christ.

6. WHAT shall we saye then? Shall we contynue in synne, that there maye be aboundance of grace? 2 God forbid. How shall we that are deed as touching synne, lyue eny lenger therin? 3 Knowe ye not that all we whych are baptysed into Iesu Chryst, are baptysed to dye wyth him? 4 We are buryed then wyth him by baptyme, for to dye: that lykewyse as Christ was raysed vp from deeth by the glorye of the father, euen so we also shulde walke in a newe lyfe. 5 For yf we be graft in deeth lyke vnto hym:

παρακοῆς τοῦ ἑνὸς ἀνθρώπου ἁμαρτωλοὶ κατεστάθησαν οἱ πολλοὶ, οὕτω καὶ διὰ τῆς ὑπακοῆς τοῦ ἑνὸς δίκαιοι κατασταθήσονται οἱ πολλοί. not with like transgression as did Adam: which is the similitude of him that was to come. [15] But the gyft is not lyke as the offence. for if through the sinne of him alone, many be dead: much more plenteous vpon many was the grace of God and gift by grace: which grace was geuen by one man Iesus Christ. [16] Nether is the gyft so, as that which entred in by one that synned: for the giltieship came of one offence vnto condemnation: but the gyft is geuen to iustifie from many synnes.

[17] For if by the offence of one, death raygned by the meanes of one: muche more shal they which receaue that abundant grace and gyft of ryghtuousnes raygne in life by the meanes of one, that is to say, Iesus Christ. [18] Lykewyse then as by the offence of one, giltiship came on all men to condemnation: euen so by the iustifiing of one, the benefit abunded vpon all men to the iustification of life. [19] For as by one mans disobedience many became synners: so by the obedience of one shal many be made ryghtuous. [20] And moreouer the Lawe entred in, that the offence should encrease. neuerthelater, where abundance of synne was, there was more plenteousnes of grace. 4. WHAT shal we say then? Shal we continue stil in synne, that grace may more abound? [2] God forbid: How shal we, that are dead to synne, liue any lenger therin? [3] Remember ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized vnto Iesus Christe, haue bene baptized vnto his death? not after the similitude of the preuarication of Adam, vvho is a figure of him to come. [15] But not as the offence, so also the gift. for if by the offence of one, many died: much more the grace of God and the gift, in the grace of one man IESVS Christ, hath abounded vpon many. [16] And not as by one sinne, so also the gift. for iudgement in deede is of one, to condemnation: but grace is of many offences, to iustification.

[17] For if in the offence of one, death reigned by one: much more they that receiue the aboundance of grace and of donation and of iustice, shal reigne in life by one, IESVS Christ. [18] Therfore as by the offence of one, vnto al men to condemnation: so also by the iustice of one, vnto al men to iustification of life. [19] For as by the disobedience of one man, many vvere made sinners: so also by the obedience of one, many shal be made iust.

[20] But the Lavv entred in, that sinne might abound. And vvhere sinne abounded, grace did more abound. [21] that as sinne reigned to death: so also grace may reigne by iustice to life euerlasting, through IESVS Christ our Lord.

6. WHAT shal vve say then? Shal vve continue in sinne that grace may abound? [2] God forbid. For vve that are dead to sinne, hovv shal vve yet liue therein? sinned after the similitude of Adams transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come: [15] But not as the offence, so also is the free gift: for if through the offence of one, many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many. [16] And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the iudgement was by one to condemnation: but the free gift is of many offences vnto iustification. [17] For if [α] by one mans offence, death raigned by one, much more they which receiue abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousnes, shall reigne in life by one, Iesus Christ. [18] Therefore as [α] by the offence of one, iudgment came vpon all men to condemnation: euen so by the [β] righteousnes of one, the free gift came vpon all men vnto iustification of life. [19] For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many be made righteous.

[20] Moreouer, the Law entred, that the offence might abound: but where sinne abounded, grace did much more abound. [21] That as sinne hath reigned vnto death; euen so might grace reigne thorow righteousnes vnto eternall life, by Iesus Christ our Lord.

6. WHAT shal we say then? shal wee continue in sinne: that grace may abound? [2] God forbid: how shal wee that are dead to sinne, liue any longer therein? [3] Know ye not, that so many of vs as [γ] were baptized into Iesus Christ, were baptized into his death? so must we be in the resurreccion. [6] This we must remember, that oure olde man is crucified with him also, that the body of synne myght vtterly be destroyed, that hence forth we shuld not be servauntes of synne. [7] For he that is deed, ys iustified from synne.

[8] Wherfore yf we be deed with Christ, we beleve that we shall live with him: [9] remembringe that Christ once raysed from deeth, dyeth no more. Deeth hath no moare power over him. [10] For as touchynge that he dyed, he dyed concernynge synne, once. And as touchinge that he liveth, he liveth vnto God. And geve youre membres as instrumentes of rightewesnes vnto God. [14] Let not synne have power over you. For ye are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace.

[15] What then? Shall we synne, because we are not vnder the lawe: but vnder grace? God forbyd. [16] Remember ye not how that to whom soever ye commit youre selves as servauntes to obey, his servauntes ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of synne vnto deeth, or of obedience vnto rightewesnes? [17] God be thanked, that though ye were once the servauntes of synne, ye have yet obeyed with herte vnto the forme of doctryne wher vnto ye were delyvered. [18] Ye are then made fre from synne, and are be come the servauntes of rightewesnes.

[19] I will speake grossly because of the infirmitie of youre flesshe. As ye have geven youre membres servauntes to vnclennes and to iniquitie, from iniquitie vnto iniquitie: even so nowe geve youre membres servantes vnto rightewesnes, that ye maye be sanctified. [20] For when ye were

[8] Wherfore yf we be deed wyth Christ, we beleue, that we shall also lyue wyth him: [9] knowyng, that Christ beyng raysed from deeth, dyeth nomore. Deeth hath nomore power ouer him. [10] For as touchynge that he dyed, he dyed concernynge synne, once. And as touchynge that he lyueth, he lyueth vnto God. [11] Lykewyse consydre ye also, that ye are deed as touchyng synne, but are alyue vnto God thorow Iesus Christ oure Lorde [12] Let not synne raygne therfore in youre mortal bodye, that ye shulde ther vnto obey by the lustes of it. [17] God be thanked, that though ye were the seruauntes of synne, ye haue yet obeyed with herte vnto the rule of the doctryne, that ye be brought vnto. [18] Ye are then made fre from synne, and are be come the seruauntes of ryghtewesnes. [19] I speake grosly, because of the infirmitie of youre fleshe. As ye haue geuen youre members seruauntes to vnclennes and to iniquitye, (from one iniquitye to another) euen so now geue ouer youre members seruauntes vnto ryghtewesnes, that ye maye be sanctifyed. so shal we be to the similitude of his resurrection. [6] Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with hym also, that the body of synne myght vtterly be destroyed, that henceforth we should not be seruantes vnto synne. [7] For he that is dead, is freed from synne. [8] Wherfore, yf we be dead with Christe, we beleue that we shal lyue also with him.	also of his resurrection. [6] Knovving this, that our old man is crucified vvith him, that the body of sinne may be destroied, to the end that vve may serue sinne no longer. [7] For he that is dead, is iustified from sinne. [8] And if vve be dead vvith Christ, vve beleeue that vve shal liue also together vvith Christ. [9] knovving that Christ rising againe from the dead, novv dieth no more, death shal no more haue dominion ouer him. [10] For that he died, to sinne he died once: but that he liueth, he liueth to God. [11] So thinke you also, that you are dead to sinne, but aliue to God in Christ IESVS our Lord.	also in the likenesse of his resurrection: [6] Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sinne might bee destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne. [7] For he that is dead, is [a] freed from sinne. [8] Now if we be dead with Christ, we beleeue that we shal also liue with him: [9] Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more dominion ouer him. [10] For in that hee died, he died vnto sinne once: but in that hee liueth, he liueth vnto God. [11] Likewise reckon yee also your selues to be dead indeed vnto sinne: but aliue vnto God, through Iesus Christ our Lord.
[9] Knowing that Christe beyng raysed from death, dyeth no more: death hath no more power ouer him. [10] For as touching that he dyed, he dyed to synne once: but as touching that he liueth, he liueth to God. [11] Lykewyse consider ye also, that ye are dead to synne, but are aliue to God through Iesus Christe our Lord. [12] Let not synne raygne therfore in your mortal body, that ye should obey synne in the lustes of the body. [13] Nether geue ye your members as weapons of vnrighteousnes vnto synne: but geue your selues vnto God, as they that are alyue from death, and geue your members as weapons of ryghtuousnes vnto God.	[12] Let not sinne therfore reigne in your mortal body, that you obey the concupiscences thereof. [13] But neither doe ye exhibite your members instruments of iniquitie vnto sinne: but exhibite your selues to God as of dead men, aliue: and your members instruments of iustice to God. [14] For sinne shal not haue dominion ouer you. for you are not vnder the Lavv, but vnder grace.	[12] Let not sinne reigne therefore in your mortall body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof. [13] Neither yeeld yee your members as [β] instruments of vnrighteousnes vnto sinne: but yeelde your selues vnto God, as those that are aliue from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousnesse vnto God. [14] For sinne shall not haue dominion ouer you, for yee are not vnder the Law, but vnder Grace.

[17] But God be thanked, that thogh ye were once the seruantes of synne, ye haue yet obeyed from the heart vnto the forme of the doctrine, whervnto ye were deliuered. [18] And being made fre from synne, ye are become the seruantes of rightuousnes. [19] I speake as men commonly vse, because of the infirmitie of your fleshe. That as ye haue geuen your members, seruantes to vnclennes and to iniquitie, to commit iniquitie: euen so now geue your members seruantes vnto rightuousnes, in holines. the servauntes of synne, ye were not vnder rightewesnes. [21] What frute had ye then in tho thinges, wher of ye are now ashamed. For the ende of tho thynges is deeth. [22] But now are ye delivered from synne, and made the servauntes of God, and have youre frute that ye shuld be sanctifyed, and the ende everlastinge lyfe. [23] For the rewarde of synne is deeth: but eternall lyfe is the gyfte of God, thorow Iesus Christ oure Lorde.

7. REMEMBER ye not brethren (I speake to them that know the lawe) how that the lawe hath power over a man as longe as it endureth? [2] For the woman which is in subieccion to a man, is bounde by the lawe to the man, as longe as he liveth. Yf the man be deed, she is lowsed from the lawe of the man. [3] So then yf whill the man liveth she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe counted a wedlocke breaker. But yf the man be deed, she is fre from the lawe: so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

[4] Even so ye my brethren, are deed concerninge the lawe by the body of Christ, that ye shuld be coupled to another (I meane to him that is rysen agayne from deeth) that we shuld bringe forth frute vnto God. [5] For when we were in the flesshe, the lustes of synne which were stered vppe by the lawe, raygned in oure membres, to bringe forth frute vnto deeth. [6] But now are we delivered from the lawe and deed, from that whervnto we were in bondage, that we shuld serve in a newe conversacion of the sprete, and not in the olde conversacion of the letter.

[7] What shall we saye then? is the lawe synne? God forbid: but I knewe not what synne meant but by the lawe. For I had not knowne what lust had meant, excepte the lawe had sayde, thou shalt not lust. [8] But synne toke an occasion by the meanes of the commaundement, and wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For with out the lawe, synne was deed. [9] I once lived with out lawe. But when the

were the seruauntes of synne, ye were freed frome rightuousnes. 21 What frute had ye then in those thinges, wherof ye are now ashamed? For the ende of those thinges is death. 22 But now being freed from synne, and made the seruantes of God, ye haue your frute in holines: and the ende, euerlasting life. 23 For the wages of synne is death: but the gyfte of God, is eternal life through Iesus Christe our Lord.	seruants of sinne, you were free to iustice. 21 What fruite therfore had you then in those things, for vvhich novv you are ashamed? for the end of them is death. 22 But novv being made free from sinne, and become seruants to God, you haue your fruite vnto sanctification, but the end, life euerlasting. 23 For the stipends of sinne, death. but the grace of God, life euerlasting in Christ IESVS our Lord.	seruants of sinne ye were free [a] from righteousnesse. 21 What fruit had you then in those things, whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death. 22 But now being made free from sinne, and become seruants to God, yee haue your fruit vnto holinesse, and the end euerlasting life. 23 For the wages of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.
7. KNOWE ye not brethren (for I speake to them that are skilful in the Lawe) how that the Lawe hath power ouer a man as long as he lyueth. 2 For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by the Lawe to the man, as long as he lyueth: if the man be dead, she is lowsed from the Lawe of the man. 3 So then, if while the man lyueth she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe called an adulterer: but yf the man be dead, she is fre from that Lawe: so that she is not an adulterer, thogh she couple her selfe with another man. 4 Euen so ye my brethren, are dead also to the Lawe, in the body of Christe, that ye shulde be coupled to another, I meane to him that is rysen agayne from death, that we shulde bringe forth frute vnto God. 5 For when we were in the fleshe, the motions of synnes which were stered vp by the Lawe, bare rule in our members, to bring forth frute vnto death. 6 But now we are deliuered from the Lawe, being dead vnto yt, wherin we were in bondage, that we should serue in a newe conuersation of the Sprite, and not in the olde conuersation of the letter.	7. ARE you ignorant brethren (for I speake to them that knovv the Lavv) that the Lavv hath dominion ouer a man as long time as he liueth? 2 for the vvoman that is vnder a husband: her husband liuing is bound to the lavv. but if her husband be dead, she is loosed from the lavv of her husband. 3 Therfore her husband liuing, she shal be called an aduouteresse if she be vvith an other man: but if her husband be dead, she is deliuered from the lavv of her husband: so that she is not an aduouteresse if she be vvith an other man. 4 Therfore my brethren you also are made dead to the Lavv by the body of Christ: that you may be an other mans vvho is risen againe from the dead, that vve may fructifie to God. 5 For vvhen vve vvere in the flesh, the passions of sinnes, that vvere by the Lavv, did vvorke in our members, to fructifie vnto death. 6 but novv vve are loosed from the lavv of death, vvherein vve vvere deteined: in so much vve serue in nevvnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnes of the letter.	7. KNOW ye not, brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the Lawe) how that the Lawe hath dominion ouer a man, as long as hee liueth? 2 For the woman which hath an husband, is bound by the law to her husband, so long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of the husband. 3 So then if while her husband liueth, shee be married to another man, shee shal be called an adulteresse: but if her husband be dead, shee is free from that law, so that she is no adulteresse, though she be married to another man. 4 Wherefore my brethren, yee also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ, that ye should be married to another, euen to him who is raised from the dead, that wee should bring forth fruit vnto God, 5 For when wee were in the flesh, the [β] motions of sinnes which were by the Law, did worke in our members, to bring forth fruit vnto death. 6 But now wee are deliuered from the law, [γ] that being dead wherein we were held, that we should serue in newnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.
7 What shal we say then? is the Law synne? God forbyd. Nay, rather I knewe not what sinne meant, but by the Lawe. For I had not knowen what lust had meant, except the Lawe had sayd, Thou shalt not lust. 8 But synne toke an occasion by the meanes of the commandement, and wroght in me all maner of concupiscence. for verely without the Lawe, sinne is dead. 9 For I once was a lyue, without the Lawe:	7 Vvhat shal vve say then? is the Lavve sinne? God forbid. But sinne I did not knovv, but by the Lavv. for concupiscence I knevv not, vnlesse the lavv did say: Thou shalt not couet. 8 But occasion being taken, sinne by the commaundement vvrought in me al concupiscence. Lavv sometime. But vvhen the commaundement vvas come, sinne reuiued. [10] And I vvas dead: and the commaundement, that vvas vnto life, the same to me vvas found to be vnto death. [11] For sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, seduced me, and by it killed me. [12] Therfore the Lavv in deede is holy, and the commaundement holy, and iust, and good.

[13] That then vvhich is good, to me vvas it made death? God forbid. but sinne, that it may appeare sinne, by the good thing vvrought me death: that sinne might become sinning aboue measure by the commaundement. 8. THER is then no damnacion to them which are in Christ Iesu, which walke not after the flesshe: but after the sprete. [2] For the lawe of the sprete that bringeth life thorowe Iesus Christ, hath delivered me from the lawe of synne and deeth. [3] For what the lawe coulde not doo in as moche it was weake because of the flesshe: that performed God, and sent his sonne in the similitude of synfull flesshe, and by synne damned synne in the flesshe: [4] that the rightewesnes requyred of the lawe myght be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesshe, but after the sprete.

[12] Therfore brethren we are nowe detters, not to the flesshe, to live after the flesshe. [13] For if ye live after the flesshe, ye must dye. But yf ye mortifie the dedes of the body, by the helpe of the sprite, ye shall lyve. [14] For as many as are led by the sprete of God: they are the sonnes of god. 8. Ther is then no damnacyon to them whych are in Christ Iesu, whych walke not after the flesshe, but after the sprete. [2] For the lawe of the sprete of lyfe thorow Iesus Chryst, hath made me fre from the lawe of synne, and deeth. [3] For what the lawe coulde not do (in as moch as it was weake because of the flesshe) that performed God, and sent his sonne in the symilytude of synfull flesshe, and by synne dampned synne in the flesshe: [4] that the ryghtewesnes of the lawe, myght be fulfylled in vs, whych walke not after the flesshe, but after the sprete.

[5] For they that are carnall, are carnally mynded. But they that are spirituall, are gostly minded. [6] To be carnally minded, is deeth. But to be spiritually mynded is life and peace. [7] Because that the flesshly mynde is enemyte agaynst God: for it is not obedyent to the lawe of God, nether can be. [8] So then they that are in the flesshe, cannot please God.

[12] Therfore brethren, we are detters, not to the fleshe, to lyue after the flesshe. [13] For yf ye lyue after the flesshe, ye shall dye. But yf ye (thorow the sprete) do mortyfye the dedes of the body, ye shall lyue. [14] For as many as are led by the sprete of God, they are the sonnes of God. 8. THER is then now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Iesus, which walke not after the fleshe: but after the Sprite. 2 For the Lawe of the Sprite of lyfe which is in Christe Iesus, hath deliuered me from the lawe of synne, and death. 3 For what the Lawe coulde not do, in as muche as it was weake, because of the fleshe: God sending his owne Sonne in the similitude of synful fleshe, and that for synne, condemned synne in the fleshe: 4 That the rightuousnes of the Lawe, myght be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Sprite. 5 For they that are carnal, are carnally wise: but they that are spiritual are affectionned to spiritual thinges. 6 For the wisedome of the fleshe, is death: but the wisdome of the Spirit, is lyfe and peace: 7 Because that the fleshly wisdome is enimitie agaynst God: for it is not obedient to the Lawe of God: nether in deed, can be.

8 So then, they that are in the fleshe, can not please God. 9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirite: because the Sprite of God dwelleth in you. If any man hath not the Sprite of Christ, the same is none of his. 10 If Christ be in you, the body is dead because of synne: but the Spirite is lyfe for rightuousnes sake. 11 But yf the Sprite of him that raysed vp Iesus from death, dwel in you: euen he that raysed vp Christ from death, shal quicken your mortal bodyes, because that his Sprite dwelleth in you.

12 Therfore brethren, we are detters not to the fleshe, to liue after the fleshe, but to the Spirit. 13 For yf ye lyue after the flesh, y^ shal dye: but yf ye mortifie the dedes of the body, by the Sprite, ye shal lyue. 14 For as many as are led by the Sprite of God: they are the sonnes of God. 15 For ye haue not receaued the Sprite of bondage to feare any more: but ye haue receaued the Sprite of adoption, wherby we crye Abba, that is say, Father. 16 The which selfe same Sprite beareth witenes

8. THERE is novv therfore no damnation to them that are in Christ IESVS: that walke not according to the flesh. 2 For the lavv of the spirit of life in Christ IESVS, hath deliuered me from the lavv of sinne and of death. 3 For that vvhich vvas impossible to the Lavv, in that it vvas vveakened by the flesh: God sending his sonne in the similitude of the flesh of sinne, euen of sinne damned sinne in the flesh, 4 that the iustification of the lavv might be fulfilled in vs, vvho vvalke not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit. 5 For they that are according to the flesh, are affected to the things that are of the flesh, but they that are according to the spirit: are affected to the things that are of the spirit.

6 For the vvisedom of the flesh, is death: but the vvisedom of the spirit, life and peace. 7 Because the vvisedom of the flesh, is an enemie to God: for to the law of God it is not subiect, neither can it be. 8 And they that are in the flesh, can not please God. 9 But you are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, yet if the Spirit of God dvvel in you. But if any man haue not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his. 10 But if Christ be in you: the body in deede is dead because of sinne, but the spirit liueth because of iustification. 11 And if the Spirit of him that raised vp IESVS from the dead, dvvel in you: he that raised vp IESVS CHRIST from the dead, shal quicken also your mortal bodies, because of his Spirit dvvelling in you.

12 Therfore brethren, vve are detters: not to the flesh, to liue according to the flesh. 13 For if you liue according to the flesh, you shal die. but if by the spirit, you mortifie the deedes of the flesh you shal liue. 14 For vvhosoeuer are ledde by the spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God. 15 For you haue not receiued the spirit of seruitude againe in feare: but you haue receiued the spirit of adoption of sonnes, vvherein vve crie: Abba, (father). 16 For the Spirit him self,

AUTHORISED—1611.

8. THERE is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Iesus, who walke not after the flesh, but after the spirit. 2 For the law of the spirit of life, in Christ Iesus, hath made me free from the law of sinne and death. 3 For what the Law could not doe, in that it was weake through the flesh, God sending his owne Sonne, in the likenesse of sinfull flesh, and [a] for sinne condemned sinne in the flesh: 4 That the righteousnesse of the law might be fulfilled in vs, who walke not after the flesh, but after the spirit. 5 For they that are after the flesh, doe minde the things of the flesh: but they that are after the spirit, the things of the spirit. 6 For [β] to be carnally minded, is death: but [γ] to be spiritually minded, is life and peace: 7 Because [δ] the carnal minde is enmitie against God: for it is not subiect to the Law of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God. 9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man haue not the spirit of Christ, he is none of his. 10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sinne: but the spirit is life, because of righteousnesse. 11 But if the spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortall bodies, [ε] by his spirit that dwelleth in you. 12 Therfore brethren we are detters, not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh. 13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the spirit doe mortifie the deedes of the body, ye shall liue. 14 For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receiued the spirit of bondage againe to feare: but ye haue receiued the spirit of adoption, whereby we crie, Abba, father. 16 The spirit it selfe giueth testimonie to our spirit, that we are the sonnes of God. [17] And if sonnes, heires also: heires truly of God, and coheires of Christ: yet if vve suffer vvith him, that vve may be also glorified vvith him.

[18] For I thinke that the passions of this time are not condigne to the glorie to come that shall be reuealed in vs. [19] For the expectation of the creature, expecteth the reuelation of the sonnes of God. [20] For the creature is made subiect to vanitie, not vvilling, but for him that made it subiect in hope: [21] because the creature also it self shal be deliuered from the seruitude of corruption, into the libertie of the glorie of the children of God. [22] For vve knovv that euery creature groneth, and trauaileth euen til novv. [23] And not only it, but vve also our selues hauing the first fruites of the spirit, vve also grone vvithin our selues, expecting the adoption of the sonnes of God, the redemption of our body. [24] For by hope vve are saued. But hope that is seen, is not hope, for that vvhich a man seeth, vvherfore doth he hope it? [25] But if vve hope for that vvhich vve see not: vve expect by patience.

[26] And in like maner also the Spirit helpeth our infirmitie. For, vvhat vve should pray as vve ought, vve knovv not: but the Spirit him self requesteth for vs vvith gronings vnspeakeable. [27] And he that searcheth the hartes, knovveth vvhat the Spirit desireth: because according to God he requesteth for the sainctes. [28] And vve knovv that to them that loue God, al thinges cooperate vnto good, to such as according to purpose are called to be sainctes. [29] For vvhom he hath for knowen, he hath also predestinated to be made conformable to the image of his sonne: that he might be the first-borne in many brethren. [30] And vvhom he hath predestinated: them also he hath called. and vvhom he hath called: them also he hath beareth witnes with our spirit, that we are the children of God. [17] And if children, then heires, heires of God, and ioynt heires with Christ: if so be that we suffer with him, that wee may be also glorified together. [18] For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time, are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shal be reuealed in vs. [19] For the earnest expectation of the creature, waiteth for the manifestation of the sonnes of God. [20] For the creature was made subiect to vanitie, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subiected the same in hope: [21] Because the creature it selfe also shall bee deliuered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the children of God. [22] For wee know that [α] the whole creation groaneth, and trauaileth in paine together vntill now. [23] And not onely they, but our selues also which haue the first fruits of the spirit, euen we our selues groane within our selues, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body. [24] For we are saued by hope: but hope that is seene, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doeth he yet hope for? [25] But if wee hope for that wee see not, then doe wee with patience waite for it.

[26] Likewise the spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as wee ought: but the spirit it selfe maketh intercession for vs with groanings, which cannot bee vttered. [27] And he that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the mind of the spirit, [β] because he maketh intercession for the Saints according to the will of God. [28] And wee knowe that all things worke together for good, to them that loue God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. [29] For whom he did foreknow, hee also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Sonne, that he might bee the first borne amongst many brethren. [30] Moreouer, whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also iustified:

[6] I speake not these thinges as though the wordes of god had take none effecte. But in Isaac shall thy seede be called: [8] that is to saye, they which are the chyldren of the flesshe, are not the chyldren of god. But the chyldren of promes are counted the seede. [9] For this is a worde of promes, aboute this tyme will I come, and Sara shall have a sonne.

[6] Nothwithstanding it can not be that the wordes of God shulde take none effect: for they are not all Israelites which came of the father Israel: [7] Nether are they all chyldren, because they are the seed of Abraham: but in Isaac shal thy seed be called. [8] That is to say, they which are the children of the fleshe, are not the chyldren of God: but the children of promes, are counted the seede. [9] For this is a worde of promes, In thys same tyme wyl I come, and Sara shal haue a sonne.

[10] Nether he only proued these thinges: but also Rebecca when she had conceaued by one, I meane by our father Isaac, [11] For yer the children were borne, when they had nether done good nether bad, that the purpose of God which is by his election, that is, not by workes, but by him that calleth, myght stande sure, [12] It was sayd vnto her, The elder shal serue the yonger. [13] As it is written, I haue loued Iacob, and haue hated Esau. [14] What shal we say then? Is there any vnrightuousnes wyth God? God forbyd. [15] For he sayth to Moses, I wil haue mercie on him, to whom I wil shewe mercie: and wil haue compassion on him, on whom I wil haue compassion. [16] So lieth election then not in him that willeth, or runneth, but in God that pitieth. [17] For the Scripture saith to Pharao, Euen for this same purpose haue I stered thee vp, to shew my power in thee, and that my Name myght be declared through out al the worlde. [18] Therfore he hath mercie on whom he wil, and whom he wil, he maketh hard hearted.

[19] Thou wylt say then vnto me, Why then blameth he vs yet? for who hath resisted his wil? [20] But ò man, who art thou which playdest against God? shal the worke say to the worke man, Why hast thou made me on this fasshon? [21] Hath not the potter power ouer the claye: euen of the same lompe to make one vessel vnto honour, and another vnto dishonour. [22] VVhat and if God wolde, to shewe his

[6] But not that the vvord of God is frustrate. For, not al that are of Israël, they be Israëlites: [7] nor they that are the seede of Abraham, al be children: but in Isaac shal the seede be called vnto thee: [8] that is to say, not they that are the children of the flesh, they are the children of God: but they that are the children of the promisse, are esteemed for the seede. [9] For the vvord of the promisse is this, According to this time vvil I come: and Sara shal haue a sonne.

[10] And not only she, But Rebecca also conceiuing of one copulation, of Isaac our father. [11] For vvhen they vvere not yet borne, nor had done any good or euil (that the purpose of God according to election might stand) [12] not of vvorkes, but of the caller it vvas said to her: That the elder shal serue the yonger, [13] as it is vvritten: Iacob I loued, but Esau I hated.

[14] Vvhat shal vve say then? Is there iniquitie vvith God? God forbid. [15] For to Moyses he saith, I vvil haue mercie on vvhom I haue mercie: and I vvil shevv mercie to vvhom I vvil shevv mercie. [16] Therefore it is not of the vviller, nor the runner, but of God that shevveth mercie. [17] For the Scripture saith to Pharao: That to this very purpose haue I raised thee, that in thee I may shevv my povver: and that my name may be renovvned in the vvhole earth. [18] Therfore on vvhom he vvil, he hath mercie: and vvhom he vvil, he doth indurate.

[19] Thou saiest therfore vnto me: Vvhy doth he yet complaine? for vvho resisteth his vvil? [20] O man, vvho art thou that doest ansvver God? Doth the vvorke say to him that vvrought it: Vvhy hast thou made me thus? [21] Or hath not the potter of clay, povver, of the same masse to make one vessel vnto honour, and an other vnto contumelie? and goo about to stablisshe their awne rightewesnes and therfore are not obedient vnto the rightewesnes which is of valew before God. [4] For Christ is the ende of the lawe, to iustifie all that beleve.

[5] Moses describeth the rightewesnes which cometh of the lawe, howe that the man which doth the thinges of the lawe, shall lyve therin. [6] But the rightewesnes which cometh of fayth, speaketh on this wyse. Saye not in thyne hert who shall ascende into heven? to stablysshe their awne ryghtewesnes, haue not bene obedient vnto the ryghtewesnes of God. [4] For Christ is the fulfyllynge of the lawe, to iustyfye all that beleue.

[5] For Moses wryteth of the ryghtewesnes whych cometh of the lawe, how that the man whych doth the thynges of the lawe, shall lyue therby. [6] But the ryghtewesnes whych cometh of fayth, speaketh on thys wyse: Saye not thou in thyne hert, who shall ascende into heauen (that is euen to fetch Chryst downe from aboue) [7] Other who shall descende into the depe? (that is euen to fetch vp Christ agayne from deeth) [8] But what sayth he? The worde is nye the, euen in thy mouth and in thyne herte.

This same is the worde of fayth, whych we preache. [9] For yf thou knowledge wyth thy mouth that Iesus is the Lorde, and beleue in thyne hert, that God raysed hym vp from deeth, thou shalt be safe. [10] For to beleue with the hert, iustyfyeth: and to knowledge wyth the mouth, maketh a man safe. [11] For the scrypture sayth: whosoeuer beleueth on hym, shall not be confounded.

[12] There is no difference bitwene the Iewe and the Gentyll. For one is Lord of all, whych is ryche vnto all that call vpon him. [13] For whosoeuer doth call on the name of the Lorde, shalbe safe. [14] How then shall they call on him, on whom they haue not beleued? how shall they beleue on hym, of whom they haue not heard? how shal they heare, without a preacher? stablishe their owne rightuousnes, haue not bene obedient vnto the ryghtuousnes of God. [4] For Christ is the ende of the Lawe, to iustifie all that beleue. [5] For Moses describeth the ryghtuousnes which cometh of the Lawe, in these wordes, That the man which doth these thinges shal lyue therby.

[6] But the ryghtuousnes which cometh of faith speaketh on this wyse, Say not in thine hearte, Who shal ascende into heauen: that is euen to fetche Christ downe from aboue. [7] Or who shal descende into the depe? that is euen to bring Christe agayne from death. [8] But what saith it? The worde is nye thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thyne heart. This, is that worde of faith which we preache. [9] For yf thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleue in thyne heart, that God raysed hym vp from death, thou shalt be saued. [10] For the beliefe of the heart iustifieth, and to confesse with the mouth, saueth a man. [11] For the Scripture sayth, Whosoeuer beleueth on him, shal not be ashamed. [12] For there is no difference betwene the Iewe and the Gentil: for one is Lord ouer all, which is ryche vnto all, that call on hym. [13] For whosoeuer shal call vpon the Name of the Lord, shalbe saued.

[14] But how shal they call on him, on whom they haue not beleued? How shal they beleue on him, of whom they haue not heard? How shal they heare, without a preacher? [15] And how shal they preache, except they be sent? as it is wrytten, O how beautiful are the fete of them which brynge glad tydinges of peace, and bryng glad tydinges of good thinges. [16] But they haue not all obeyed to the Gospel: for Esai saith, Lord who hath beleued our sayinges? [17] So then fayth commeth by hearing, and hearing, commeth by the worde of God.

establish their ovvne, they haue not been subiect to the iustice of God. [4] For, the end of the Law is Christ: vnto iustice to euery one that beleeueth. [5] for Moyses vvrote, that, the iustice vvhich is of the Lavv, the man that hath done it, shal liue in it.

[6] But the iustice vvhich is of faith, saith thus, Say not in thy hart, Vvho shal ascend into heauen? that is to bring Christ dovvne. [7] Or vvho descendeth into the depth? that is to call Christ againe from the dead. [8] But vvhat saith the Scripture? The vvord is nigh, in thy mouth, and in thy hart. this is the vvord of faith vvhich vve preach. [9] For if thou confesse vvith thy mouth our Lord IESVS, and in thy hart beleeue that God hath raised him vp from the dead, thou shalt be saued. [10] For vvith the hart vve beleeue vnto iustice: but vvith the mouth confession is made to saluation. [11] For the Scripture saith: Vvhosoeuer beleeueth in him, shal not be confounded.

[15] But hovv shal they preach vnles they be sent? as it is vvritten: Hovv beautiful are the feete of them that euangelize peace, of them that euangelize good things? [16] But al do not obey the Gospel. For Esay saith, Lord, vvho hath beleeued the hearing of vs? [17] Faith then, is by hearing: and hearing is by the vvord of Christ. [18] But I say, haue they not heard? about to establish their owne righteousnesse, haue not submitted themselues vnto the righteousnesse of God. [4] For Christ is the end of the Law for righteousnesse to euery one that beleeueth. [5] For Moses describeth the righteousnesse which is of the Law, that the man which doeth those things shall liue by them. [6] But the righteousnesse which is of faith, speaketh on this wise: Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heauen? That is to bring Christ down from aboue. [7] Or, who shall descend into the deepe? That is to bring vp Christ againe from the dead. [8] But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that is the word of faith which we preach, [9] That if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thine heart, that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt bee saued. [10] For with the heart man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confesion is made vnto saluation. [11] For the Scripture saith, Whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not bee ashamed.

[12] For there is no difference betweene the Iew and the Greeke: for the same Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all, that call vpon him. [13] For whosoeuer shall call vpon the Name of the Lord, shall be saued. [14] How then shall they call on him in whom they haue not beleeued? and how shall they beleeue in him, of whom they haue not heard? and how shall they heare without a Preacher? backe alwayes. [11] I say then, Haue they therfore stombled, that they should fall? God forbyd: but through their fall, saluation commeth vnto the Gentils, to prouoke them to folow them. [12] Wherfore if the fall of them, be the ryches of the worlde: and the diminishing of them the ryches of the Gentils: how muche more shal their fulnes be? [13] For in that I speake to you Gentils, in as muche as I am the Apostle of the Gentils, I magnifie myne office. [14] That I might trie if by any meanes, I might prouoke them which are my fleshe to enuie, and myght saue some of them. [15] For if the castyng away of them, be the reconciling of the world: what shal the receauing of them be, but lyfe from the dead? [16] For if the first fruites be holy, the whole lompe is holie: and if the rote be holy, the branches lykewyse shalbe holy.

[17] Thogh some of the branches be broken of, and thou beyng a wylde oliue tree, wast grafte in for them, and made partaker of the rote, and fatnesse of the oliue tree: [18] Boast not thy selfe against the branches. and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the rote, but the rote thee. [19] Thou wylt say then, The branches are broken of, that I myght be grafte in. [20] Thou sayest wel: because of vnbelefe they are broken of, and thou standest stedfast by faith: be not hye mynded, but feare. [21] For seing that God spared not the natural branches, take hede, lest he also spare not thee. [22] Behold therfore the kindnes, and rigorousnes of God: towarde them which fel, rigorousnes: but towarde thee, kindnes, yf thou continue in his kyndnes: or els thou shalt be hewen of. [23] And they also, if they byde not styl in vnbelefe, shalbe graffed in: for God is of power to graffe them in agayne. alvvaies crooked. [11] I say then, haue they so stombled, that they should fall? God forbid. but by their offence, saluation is to the Gentils, that they may emulate them. [12] And if the offence of them be the riches of the vvorld, and the diminution of them the riches of the Gentils: hovv much more the fulnesse of them?

[13] For to you Gentils I say, as long verely as I am the Apostle of the Gentils, I vvil honour my ministerie, [14] if by any meanes I may prouoke my flesh to emulation, and may saue some of them. [15] For if the losse of them be the reconciliation of the vvorld: vvhat shal the receiuing be, but life from the dead? [16] And if the first fruite be holy, the masse also: and if the roote be holy, the boughes also. [17] And if some of the boughes be broken, and thou vvhereas thou vvast a vvilde oliue, art graffed in them, and art made partaker of the roote and of the fatnesse of the oliue, [18] glorie not against the boughes. And if thou glorie: not thou bearest the roote, but the roote thee. [19] Thou saiest then: the boughes vvere broken, that I might be graffed in. [20] Vvel: because of incredulitie they vvere broken, but thou by faith doest stand: be not to highly vvise, but feare.

[21] For if God hath not spared the natural boughes: lest perhaps he vvil not spare thee neither. [22] See then the goodnes and the seueritie of God: vpon them surely that are fallen, the seueritie: but vpon thee the goodnes of God, if thou abide in his goodnesse, othervvise thou also shalt be cut of. [23] But they also, if they do not abide in incredulitie, shal be graffed in. for God is able to graffe them in againe. [24] For if thou vvast cut out of the natural vvild oliue, and contrarie to nature vvast graffed into the good oliue: hovv much more they that are according to nature, shal be graffed into their ovvne oliue?

and bow downe their backe alway. [11] I say then; Haue they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid. But rather through their fall, saluation is come vnto the Gentiles, for to prouoke them to ielousie. [12] Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the [α] diminishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: how much more their fulnesse?

[13] For I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office: [14] If by any meanes I may prouoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might saue some of them. [15] For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world: what shall the receiuing of them be, but life from the dead? [16] For if the first fruit bee holy, the lumpe is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches. [17] And if some of the branches bee broken off, and thou being a wild oliue-tree wert graffed in [β] amongst them, and with them partakest of the roote and fatnesse of the Oliue tree: [18] Boast not against the branches: but if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

[19] Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in. [20] Well: because of vnbeliefe they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high minded, but feare. [21] For if God spared not the naturall branches, take heed lest hee also spare not thee. [22] Beholde therefore the goodnesse and seueritie of God: on them which fell, seueritie; but toward thee, goodnesse, if thou continue in his goodnesse: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off. [23] And they also, if they bide not still in vnbeliefe, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graffe them in againe. [24] For if thou wert cut out of the Oliue tree which is wilde by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good Oliue tree: how much more shall these which be the naturall branches, bee graffed into their owne Oliue tree?

[25] For I wolde not brethren, that this secret should be hyd from you (lest ye should be arrogant in your selues) that partly blyndnes is come to Israel, vntil the fulnes of the Gentils be come in.

[26] And so all Israel shalbe saued, as it is written, There shal come out of Sion the deliuerer, and shal turne away the vngodlynes from Iacob. [27] And this is my couenant to them, When I shal take away their synnes. [28] As concerning the Gospel they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are loued for the fathers sakes. [29] For the gyftes and calling of GOD are suche, that it can not repent him of them. [30] For as ye in tyme passed, haue not beleued God, yet haue now obteyned mercie through their rebellion: [31] Euen so now haue they not obeyed, that by your mercie, they also may obtaine mercie. [32] For God hath wrapped all nations in disobedience, that he might haue mercie on al. [33] O the depnes of the ryches, bothe of the wysdome, and knowledge of God: how vnsercheable are his iudgementes, and his wayes past finding out? [34] For who hath knowen the mynde of the Lord? or who was his counseller? [35] Other who hath geuen vnto him fyrst, and he shalbe recompensed agayne? RHEIMS — 1582.

[25] For I vvil not haue you ignorant, brethren, of this mysterie (that you be not vvise in your selues) that blindnes in part hath chaunced in Israël, vntil the fulnes of the Gentiles might enter: [26] and so al Israël might be saued, as it is vvritten: There shal come out of Sion, he that shal deliuer, and shal auert impietie from Iacob. [27] And this to them the testament from me: vvhen I shal haue taken avvay their sinnes. [28] According to the Gospel in deede enemies for you: but according to the election, most deere for the fathers. [29] for vvithout repentance are the giftes and the vocation of God.

[30] for as you also sometime did not beleeue God, but novv haue obteined mercie because of their incredulitie: [31] so these also novv haue not beleeued, for your mercie, that they also may obteine mercie.

[32] For God hath concluded al into incredulitie, that he may haue mercie on al. [33] O depth of the riches of the vvisedom and of the knowledge of God: hovv incomprehensible are his iudgements, and his vvaies vnsearcheable? [34] for vvho hath knovven the minde of our Lord? or vvho hath been his counseler? [35] Or vvho hath first giuen to him, and retribution shal be made him? [36] For of him, and by him, and in him are al things: to him be glorie for euer. Amen.

12. I BESECH you therfore brethren by the mercie of God, that you exhibite your bodies a liuing host, holy, pleasing God, your reasonable seruice. [2] And be not conformed to this vvorld: but be reformed in the newnes of your minde, that you may proue vvhat the good, and acceptable, and perfect vvil of God is. [25] For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mysterie (lest yee should bee wise in your owne conceits) that [α] blindnes in part is happened to Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in. [26] And so all Israel shall be saued, as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliuerer, and shall turne away vngodlinesse from Iacob. [27] For this is my Couenant vnto them, when I shall take away their sinnes. [28] As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are beloued for the fathers sakes. [29] For the gifts and calling of God, are without repentance.

[30] For as yee in times past haue not [β] beleeued God, yet haue now obtained mercy through their vnbeliefe: [31] Euen so haue these also now not [β] beleeued, that through your mercy they also may obtaine mercy. [32] For God hath [γ] concluded them all in vnbeliefe, that hee might haue mercy vpon all. [33] O the depth of the riches both of the wisedome and knowledge of God! how vnsearchable are his iudgements, and his wayes past finding out! [34] For who hath knowen the mind of the Lord, or who hath been his counseller? [35] Or who hath first giuen to him, and it shall bee recompensed vnto him againe? [36] For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for euer. Amen.

12. I BESEECH you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God, that yee present your bodies a liuing sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruice. [2] And bee not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renuing of your minde, that ye may proue what is that good, that acceptable and perfect will of God. [3] For I say, through the grace giuen vnto mee, to euery man that is among you, not to thinke of himselfe more highly then hee ought to thinke, but to thinke [δ] soberly, selfe, according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of fayth. 4 For as we haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office: 5 So we beyng many, are one body in Christe, and euery man among our selues, one anothers members.	vnto sobrietie, to euery one as God hath deuided the measure of faith. 4 For as in one body vve haue many members, but al the members haue not one action: 5 so vve being many, are one body in Christ, and eche one an others members.	according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of faith. 4 For as we haue many members in one body, and all members haue not the same office: 5 So we being many are one bodie in Christ, and euery one members one of another.

6 Seyng then that we haue diuers giftes according to the grace that is geuen vnto vs: whether we haue prophecie, let vs prophecie according to the proportion of faith. 7 Or if we haue an office, let vs waite on our office. So he that teacheth, let him be occupied in teaching. 8 Also he that exhorteth let him be diligent in exhortation. he that distributeth, the almes, let him do it with singlenes: he that ruleth, with diligence: he that sheweth mercie, let him do it with cherfulnes. 9 Let loue be without dissimulation. Abhorre that which is euyl, and cleaue vnto that which is good.	6 And hauing giftes, according to the grace that is giuen vs, different, either prophecie according to the rule of faith, 7 or ministerie in ministring, or he that teacheth in doctrine, 8 he that exhorteth in exhorting, he that giueth in simplicitie, he that ruleth in carefulnes, he that shevveth mercie in cheerefulnes. 9 Loue vvithout simulation. Hating euil. cleauing to good.	6 Hauing then gifts, differing according to the grace that is giuen to vs, whether prophesie, let vs prophesie according to the proportion of faith. 7 Or ministery, let vs wait on our ministering: or hee that teacheth, on teaching: 8 Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that [α] giueth, let him doe it [β] with simplicitie: hee that ruleth with diligence: hee that sheweth mercie with cheerefulnesse. 9 Let loue be without dissimulation: abhorre that which is euill, cleaue to that which is good.
10 Be affectioned to loue one another with brotherly loue. In geuing honour, go one before another. 11 Not slothful to do seruice. feruent in sprite. seruing the Lord. 12 Reioycing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing in prayer. 13 Distributing vnto the necessitie of the Saincttes. geuing your selues to hospitalitie. 14 Blesse them which persecute you: blesse I say, but curse not. 15 Be mery with them that are mery, and wepe with them that wepe.	10 Louing the charitie of the brotherhod one toward an other. Vvith honour preuenting one an other. 11 In carefulnes not slouthful. In spirit feruent. Seruing our Lord. 12 Reioycing in hope. Patient in tribulation. Instant in praier. 13 Communicating to the necessities of the sainctes. Pursuing hospitalitie. 14 Blesse them that persecute you: blesse, and curse not.	10 Be kindly affectioned one to another [γ] with brotherly loue, in honour preferring one another. 11 Not slothfull in busines: feruent in spirit, seruing the Lord. 12 Reioycing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing instant in prayer. 13 Distributing to the necessity of Saints; giuen to hospitality. 14 Blesse them which persecute you, blesse, and curse not.
16 Be of lyke affection one towards another. Be not hie minded: but make your selues equal to them of the lower sorte. Be not wise in your owne opinions. 17 Recompence to no man euyl for euyl Procure thinges honest in the syght of all men. 18 If it be possible, as muche as in you lyeth, haue peace with all men. 19 Dearly beloued, auenge not your selues, but geue roume vnto wrath: for it is wrytten, Vengeance is myne: I wil repaye, sayth the Lord.	15 To reioyce vvith them that reioyce, to vveepe vvith them that vveepe. 16 Being of one minde one tovvard an other. Not minding high things, but consenting to the humble. Be not vvise in your ovvne conceite. 17 To no man rendring euil for euil. Prouiding good things not only before God, but also before al men.	15 Reioyce with them that doe reioyce, and weepe with them that weepe. 16 Be of the same mind one towards another. Minde not high things, but [δ] condescend to men of lowe estate. Bee not wise in your owne conceits.
20 Therfore, yf thyne enemy honger, fede him: if he thurste, geue him drinke:	18 If it may be, as much as is in you, hauing peace vvith al men. 19 Not reuenging your selues my deerest, but giue place vnto vvrath, for it is vvritten: Reuenge to me: I vvil revvard, saith our Lord. 20 but if thine enemie hunger geue him meate: if he thirst, giue him drinke. for,	17 Recompense to no man euill for euill. Prouide things honest in the sight of all men. 18 If it be possible, as much as lyeth in you, liue peaceably with all men. 19 Dearely beloued, auenge not your selues, but rather giue place vnto wrath: for it is written, Uengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord. 20 Therefore if thine enemie hunger, feede him: if hee thirst giue him drinke. LET euery soul be subiect to higher powers, for there is no povver but of God. And those that are, of God are ordeined. [2] Therfore he that resisteth the povver, resisteth the ordinance of God. And they that resist, purchase to them selues damnation. [3] for princes are no feare to the good worke, but to the euil. But wilt thou not feare the povver? Doe good: and thou shalt haue praise of the same. [4] for he is gods minister vnto thee for good. But if thou doe euil, feare. for he beareth not the svvord without cause. For he is Gods minister: a reuenger vnto vvrath, to him that doeth euil. [5] Therfore be subiect of necessitie, not only for vvrath, but also for conscience sake. [6] For therfore you giue tributes also. for they are the ministers of God, seruing vnto this purpose.	13. LET euery soule bee subiect vnto the higher powers: For there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are [a] ordeined of God. [2] Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shal receiue to themselues damnation. [3] For rulers are not a terrour to good works, but to the euill. Wilt thou then not bee afraid of the power? doe that which is good, and thou shalt haue praise of the same. [4] For he is the minister of God to thee for good: but if thou do that which is euill be afraid: for he beareth not the sword in vaine: for he is the minister of God, a reuenger to execute wrath vpon him that doeth euill. [5] Wherfore ye must needs be subiect, not onely for wrath, but also for conscience sake. [6] For, for this cause pay you tribute also: for they are Gods ministers, attending continually vpon this very thing. [7] Render therfore to all their dues, tribute to whome tribute is due, custome to whome custome, feare to whome feare, honour to whome honour.
[4] For he is the minister of God for thy wealth. but if thou do euyl, feare: for he beareth not a sworde for noght: for he is the minister of God to take vengeance on them that do euil. [5] Wherfore ye must nedes obey, not for feare of vengeance onely: but also because of conscience.	[7] Render therfore to al men their devv: to vvhom tribute, tribute: to vvhom custom, custom: to whom feare, feare: to vvhom honour, honour. [8] Ovve no man any thing: but, that you loue one an other. For he that loueth his neighbour, hath fulfilled the lavv. [9] For, Thou shalt not commit aduoutrie, Thou shalt not kil, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false vvitnes, Thou shalt not couet, and if there be any other commaundement: it is comprised in this vword, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy self. [10] The loue of thy neighbour, vvorketh no euil. Loue therfore is the fulnesse of the lavv.	[8] Owe no man any thing, but to loue one another: for he that loueth another hath fulfilled the Law. [9] For this, Thou shalt not commit adulterie, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steale, Thou shalt not beare false witnesse, Thou shalt not couet: and if there bee any other commaundement, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. [10] Loue worketh no ill to his neighbour, therefore loue is the fulfilling of the Law.
[6] And euen for this cause ye paye also tribute: for they are Gods ministers, seruing for the same purpose. [7] Geue to euery man therfore his dutie, tribute, to whom ye owe tribute: custome, to whom custome: feare, to whom feare: honour to whom ye owe honour. [8] Owe nothyng to any man: but to loue one another: for he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the Lawe. [9] For this, Thou shalt not commit aduoutry: Thou shalt not kyl: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false wytnes: Thou shalt not desire: and if there be any other commandement, it is briefely comprehended in this saying, to wit, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. [10] Loue hurteth not his neyghbour: therfore is loue the fulfillyng of the Lawe.
[11] And that, considering the season, how that it is tyme that we shoulde now awake out of slepe. for now is our saluation	[11] And that knovving the season, that it is novv the houre for vs to rise from sleepe. For novv our saluation is neerer	out of sleepe: for now is our saluation and euery knee shal bowe to me, and all tongues shal confesse vnto God. 12 So shal euery one of vs geue accomptes of him selfe to God. 13 Let vs not therfore iudge one another any more: but vse your iudgement rather in this, that no man putte a stombling blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers way. 14 I knowe, and am ful certified through the Lord Iesus, that ther is nothing vnclene of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth it to be vnclene, to him it is vnclene. 15 But if thy brother be greued with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ dyed.

16 Cause not your commoditie to be euil spoken of. 17 For the kyngdome of God is not meat and drinke: but rightuousnes, peace, and ioye in the holy Gost. 18 For whosoeuer in these thinges serueth Christ, pleaseth God wel, and is commended of men. 19 Let vs then folow those thinges which make for peace, and wherwyth one may edifie another. 20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake. all thinges in deed are pure: but it is euyl for that man which eateth wyth offence. 21 It is good nether to eate fleshe, nether to drinke wyne, nether any thing, wherby thy brother stombleth, ether is offended, or made weake. 22 Thou hast faith: haue it with thy selfe before God. shal bovve to me: and euery tongue shal confesse to God. 12 Therfore euery one of vs for him self shal render account to God.

13 Let vs therfore no more iudge one an other. but this iudge ye rather, that you put not a stumbling blocke or a scandal to your brother. 14 I knovv and am persuaded in our Lord IESVS Christ, that nothing is common of it self, but to him that supposeth, any thing to be common, to him it is common. 15 For if because of meate thy brother be greeued: novv thou vvalkest not according to charitie. Do not vvith thy meate destroy him for vvhom Christ died. 16 Let not then our good be blasphemed. 17 For the kingdom of God is not meate and drinke: but iustice, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost. 18 for he that in this serueth Christ, pleaseth God, and is acceptable to men.

19 Therfore the things that are of peace let vs pursue: and the things that are of edifying one tovvard an other let vs keepe. 20 Destroy not the vvorke of God for meate. Al things in deede are cleane: but it is il for the man that eateth by giuing offence. 21 It is good not to eate flesh, and not to drinke vvine, nor that vvherein thy brother is offended, or scandalized, or vveakened. 22 Hast thou faith? haue it vvith thy self before God. Blessed is he that iudgeth not him self in that vvhich he approueth. 23 But he that discerneth, if he eate, is damned: because not of faith. for al that is not of faith, is sinne.

the Lord, euery knee shall bow to mee, and euery tongue shall confesse to God. 12 So then euery one of vs shall giue account of himselfe to God. 13 Let vs not therfore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall in his brothers way. 14 I knowe, and am perswaded by the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing [α] vncleane of it selfe: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be [α] vncleane, to him it is vncleane. 15 But if thy brother be grieued with thy meate: now walkest thou not [β] charitably. 19 Let vs therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edifie another. 20 For meat, destroy not the worke of God: all things indeed are pure; but it is euill for that man who eateth with offence. 21 It is good neither to eate flesh, nor to drinke wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weake. 22 Hast thou faith? haue it to thyselfe before God. I trust to se you in my iorney, and to be brought on my waye thither warde by you after that I have somwhat enioyed you.

[25] Now go I vnto Ierusalem, and minister vnto the saynctes. [26] For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpon the poore saynctes which are at Ierusalem. [27] It hath pleased them verely, and their detters are they. For yf the gentils be made partetakers of their spirituall thinges, their dutie is to minister vnto them in carnall thinges. [28] When I have performed this, and have brought them this frute sealed, I will come backe agayne by you into Spayne. [29] And I am sure when I come, that I shall come with aboundaunce of the blessinge of the gospell of Christ.

[30] I beseche you brethren for oure Lorde Iesus Christes sake, and for the love of the sprete, that ye helpe me in my busynes, with youre prayers to God for me, [31] that I maye be delyvered from them which beleve not in Iewry, and that this my service, which I have to Ierusalem, thing, which Christ hath not wroght by me, to make the Gentils obedient with worde and dede. [19] In myghty signes and wonders, by the power of the Sprite of God: so that from Ierusalem and the costes rounde about vnto Illyricum, I haue fulfylled myne office of preaching the Gospel of Christe.	any of those things vvhich Christ vvorketh not by me for the obedience of the Gentils, by vvord and deedes, [19] in the vertue of signes and vvonders, in the vertue of the holy Ghost: so that from Hierusalem round about vnto Illyricum I haue replenished the Gospel of Christ.	dare to speake of any of those things, which Christ hath not wrought by mee, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, [19] Through mightie signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Hierusalem and round about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospel of Christ. [20] Yea, so haue I striued to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build vpon another mans foundation: [21] But as it is written, To whom hee was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that haue not heard, shall vnderstand. [22] For which cause also I haue bene [α] much hindered from comming to you. [23] But now hauing no more place in these parts, and hauing a great desire these many yeeres to come vnto you: [24] Whensoeuer I take my iourney into Spaine, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my iourney, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled [β] with your company.

[20] Yea so I enforsed my selfe to preache the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I sholde haue buylt on another mans foundation: [21] But as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shal se: and they that heard not, shal vnderstand. [22] For thys cause I haue bene oft let to come vnto you. [23] But now seyng I haue no more to do in these countres, and also haue bene desirous many yeres agone to come vnto you: [24] When I shal take my iorney into Spayne, I wyl come to you: for I trust to se you in my iorney, and to be broght on my way thytherwarde by you, after that I haue bene somewhat filled with your compagnie. [25] Now go I vnto Ierusalem, to minister vnto the Sainctes.	[20] And I haue so preached this Gospel, not vvhere Christ vvas named, lest I should build vpon an other mans foundation: [21] but as it is vvritten, They to vvhom it hath not been preached of him, shal see: and they that haue not heard, shal vnderstand. [22] For the vvhich cause also I vvas hindred very much from comming vnto you. [23] But novv hauing no longer place in these countries, and hauing a desire to come vnto you these many yeres novv passed: [24] vvhen I shal begin to take my iourney into Spaine, I hope that as I passe, I shal see you, and be brought thither of you, if first in part I shal haue enioyed you. [25] Novv therfore I vvil goe vnto Hierusalem to minister to the saincts.	[25] But now I goe vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the Saints. [26] For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine contribution for the poore Saints which are at Hierusalem. [27] It hath pleased them verely, and their detters they are. For if the Gentiles haue bene made partakers of their spirituall things, their duetie is also to minister vnto them in carnall things. [28] When therefore I haue performed this, and haue sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spaine. [29] And I am sure that when I come vnto you, I shall come in the fulnesse of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.
[26] For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certayne distribution vnto the poore Sainctes which are at Ierusalem. [27] It hath pleased them I say, and their detters are they. For if the Gentils be made partakers of their spiritual thinges, their dutie is to minister vnto them in carnal thinges. [28] When I haue performed this, and haue broght them this frute sealed: I wil passe by you into Spayne. [29] And I am sure when I come, that I shal come to you with abondance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ. [30] Also brethren I beseche you for our Lord Iesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the Sprite, that ye wolde striue with me in your prayers to God for me.	Macedonia and Achaia haue liked vvel to make some contribution vpon the poore saincts that are in Hierusalem. [27] For it hath pleased them: and they are their detters. For if the Gentiles be made partakers of their spiritual things: they ought also in carnal things to minister vnto them. [28] This therfore vvhen I shal haue accomplished, and signed them this fruite, I vvil goe by you into Spaine. [29] And I knovv that comming to you, I shal come in aboundance of the blessing of Christ. [30] I beseeche you therfore brethren by our Lord IESVS Christ, and by the charitie of the holy Ghost, that you helpe me in your praiers for me to God,	[30] Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Iesus Christs sake, and for the loue of the Spirit, that ye striue together with mee, in your prayers to God for me, [31] That I may bee deliuered from them that [γ] doe not beleeue in Iudea, and that my seruice which I haue for Hierusalem,
[31] That I may be deliuered from them which are disobedient in Iewrie, and that this my seruice which I haue to do at	[31] that I may be deliuered from the infidels that are in Ievvrie, and the oblation of my seruice witte: and in the same kunnynge, 11 for my britheren it is teld to me of hem that ben at cloes, that stryues ben among 3ou, 12 and I seie that that eche of 3ou seith, for I am of poul, and I am of apollo, and I am of cefas: but I am of crist, 13 whether crist is departid whether poul was crucified for 3ou, ether 3e ben baptisid in the name of poul?

14 I do thankyngis to my god: that I baptiside noon of 3ou, but crispis and gayus: 15 leest ony man seie that 3e ben baptisid in my name, 16 and I baptisid also the hous of stephan, but I woot not that I baptisid ony other, 17 for crist sente me not to baptise. but to preche the gospel, not in wisdom of word: that the cros of crist be not voidid awei, 18 for the word of the cros is foli to hem that perischen, but to hem that ben made saaf, that is to seie to us, it is the vertu of god,

19 for it is writun, I schal distrie the wisdom of wise men, and I schal repreue the prudence of prudent men, 20 where is the wise man, where is the wise lawier, where is the purchasour of this world? whether god hath not made the wisdom of this world fonned,

21 for the world in wisdom of god, knewe not god bi wisdom: it plesid to god bi foli of prechynge to make hem saaf that bileueden, 22 for iewis seken signes: and grekis seken wisdom, 23 but we prechen crist crucified to iewis sclaundre, and to hethen men foli, 24 but to tho iewis and grekis that ben clepid: we prechen crist the vertu of god, and the wisdom of god, 25 for that that is foli thing of god, is wiser thanne men, and that that is the feble thing of god is strenger than men, in one mynde and in one meanynge. 11 It is shewed vnto me (my brethren) of you by them that are of the housse of Cloe, that ther is stryfe amonge you. 12 And this is it that I meane: how that comenlie amonge you, one sayeth: I holde of Paul: another I holde of Apollo: the thyrde I holde of Cephas: the four that I holde of Christ. 13 Ys Christ devided? was Paul crucified for you? ether were ye baptised in the name of Paul? 14 I thanke God that I christened none of you, but Crispus and Gayus, 15 lest eny shulde saye that I had baptised in myne awne name. 16 I baptised also the housse of Stephana. Forthermore knowe I not whether I baptised eny man or no.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptyse, but to preache the gospell, not with wysdome of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ shuld have bene made of none effecte. 18 For the preachinge of the crosse is to them that perisshe folishnes: but vnto vs which are saved, it is the power of God. 19 For it is written: I will destroye the wysdome of the wyse, and will cast awaye the vnderstondinge of the prudent. 20 Where is the wyse? Where is the scrybe? Where is the searcher of this worde? Hath not God made the wysdome of this worlde folisshnes?

21 For when the worlde thorow wysdome knew not God, in the wysdome of God: it pleased God thorow folisshnes of preachinge to save them that beleve. 22 For the Iewes requyre a signe, and the Grekes seke after wysdome. 23 But we preache Christ crucified, vnto the Iewes an occasion of fallinge, and vnto the Grekes folisshnes: 24 but vnto them which are called both of Iewes and Grekes, we preache Christ the power of God, and the wysdome of God. 25 For the folishnes of God is wyser then men: and the weakenes of God is stronger then men.

Was Paul crucyfyed for you? ether were ye baptised in the name of Paul? 14 I thanke God, that I baptysed none of you, but Crispus and Gaius: 15 lest eny shuld saye, that I had baptised in myne awne name. 16 I baptised also the house of Stephana. Forthermore knowe I not, whether I baptysed eny man (of you) or no.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptyse, but to preache the Gospell, not with wysdome of wordes, lest the crosse of Christ shulde haue bene made of none effecte. 18 For the preachyng of the crosse, is to them that perysshe, foolishnes: but vnto vs which are saued it is the power of God. 19 For it is wrytten: I wyll destroye the wysdome of the wyse, and wyll cast awaye the vnderstandynge of the prudent. 20 Where is the wyse? minde, and in one iudgement. [11] For it hath bene declared vnto me my brethren, of you, by them that are of the house of Cloe, that ther is strife among you. [12] And this is it that I meane, that euerie one of you sayeth, I holde of Paul, I holde of Apollos, I holde of Cephas, I holde of Christe.

[13] Is Christe deuided? was Paul crucified for you? ether were ye baptized in the Name of Paul? [14] I thanke God, that I baptized none of you, but Crispus, and Gaius. [15] Lest any should say, that I had baptized in myne owne name. [16] I baptized also the householde of Stephanas: furthermore knowe I not, whether I baptized any other. [17] For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preache the Gospel, not wyth wysdome of talke, lest the crosse of Christ shold haue bene made of none effect. [21] For when the world by wysdome, knew not God, in the wysdome of God: it pleased God by folish preaching, to saue them that beleue. [22] Seing also that the Iewes require a sygne, and the Grekes seke after wysdome. [23] But we preache Christe crucified: vnto the Iewes, an occasion of fallyng: and vnto the Grekes, folyshnes: [24] But vnto them which are called, both of the Iewes and Grekes, we preache Christe, the power of GOD, and the wysdome of God. perfect in one sense, and in one knovvledge. [11] For it is signified vnto me (my brethren) of you, by them that are of Chloè, that there be contentions among you. [12] And I meane this, for that euery one of you saith, I certes am Paules, and I Apollos, but I Cephas, and I Christs.

[13] Is Christ deuided? Vvhy, vvas Paul crucified for you? or in the name of Paul vvere you baptized? [14] I giue God thankes, that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Caius: [15] lest any man say that in my name you vvere baptized. [16] And I baptized also the house of Stéphanas. But I know not if I haue baptized any other.

[17] For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to euangelize: not in vvisedom of speache, that the crosse of Christ be not made void. [18] For the vvord of the crosse, to them in deede that perish, is folishnes: but to them that are saued, that is, to vs, it is the povver of God. [19] For it is vvritten, I vvil destroy the vvisedom of the vvise: and the prudence of the prudent I vvil reiecte. [20] Vvhere is the vvise? vvhere is the Scribe? vvhere is the disputer of this vvorld? Hath not God made the vvisedom of this vvorld folish? [21] For because in the vvisedom of God the vvorld did not by vvisedom knovv God: it pleased God by the folishnes of the preaching to saue them that beleeue. [22] For both the Ievves aske signes, and the Greekes seeke vvisedom:

[23] but vve preach Christ crucified, to the Ievves certes a scandal, and to the Gentiles, folishnes: [24] but to the called Ievves and Greekes, Christ the povver of God and the vvisedom of God. together in the same minde, and in the same iudgement. [11] For it hath been declared vnto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you. [12] Now this I say, that euery one of you saith, I am of Paul, and I of Apollo, and I of Cephas, and I of Christ. [13] Is Christ diuided? was Paul crucified for you? or were yee baptized in the name of Paul? [14] I thanke God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius: [15] Lest any should say, that I had baptized in mine owne name.

[16] And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. [17] For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the Gospel: not with wisedome of [a] words, lest the Crosse of Christ should be made of none effect. [18] For the preaching of the Crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saued, it is the power of God. [19] For it is written, I will destroy the wisedome of the wise, and wil bring to nothing the vnderstanding of the prudent. [20] Where is the wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made foolish the wisedome of this world?

[21] For after that, in the wisedom of God, the world by wisedome knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishnesse of preaching, to saue them that beleeue. [22] For the Iewes require a signe, and the Greekes seeke after wisedome. [23] But wee preach Christ crucified, vnto the Iewes a stumbling block, and vnto the Greekes, foolishnesse: [24] But vnto them which are called, both Iewes and Greekes, Christ, the power of God, and the wisedome of God.

iudgement. no, I iudge not myne owne selfe. [4] For I knowe noght by my selfe: yet am I not therby iustified: but the Lord is he that iudgeth me. [5] Therfore iudge nothing before the tyme, vntyl the Lord come, which wyl lighten thinges that are hyd in darcknes, and open the counsels of the heartes: and then shal euery man haue prayse of God. [6] These thinges brethren I haue figuratiuely described in myne owne person and Apollos, for your sakes: that ye myght learne by vs, that no man counte of hym selfe beyonde that which is aboue written: that one swel not against another for any mans cause. [9] For I thynke that God hath appoynted vs the laste Apostles, as it were men destinate to death. for we are a gasyng stocke vnto the worlde, and to the Angels, and to men. [10] We are foles for Christes sake, and ye are wyse through Christ. we are weake, and ye are stronge: ye are honorable, and we are despiced. of mans day: but I iudge not my self neither. [4] For I am not guilty in conscience of any thing: but I am not iustified herein: but he that iudgeth me, is our Lord. [5] Therfore iudge not before the time: vntil our Lord do come, vvho also wil lighten the hidden things of darkenes, and vvil manifest the counsels of the hartes: and then the praise shal be to euery man of God.

[6] But these things, brethren, I haue transfigured into my self and Apollo, for you: that in vs you may learne, one not to be puffed vp against an other, aboue that is vvritten. [7] For vvho discerneth thee? Or vvhat hast thou that thou hast not receiued? And if thou hast receiued, what doest thou glorie as though thou hast not receiued? [8] Now you are filled, now are you become riche: without vs you reigne: and I would to God you did reigne, that vve also might reigne vvith you.

[9] For I thinke that God hath shevved vs Apostles the last, as it vvere deputed to death: because vve are made a spectacle to the vvorld, and to Angels and men. [10] Vve are fooles for Christ: but you vvise in Christ. vve vveake: but you strong. you noble, but vve base. [11] Vntil this houre we doe both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are beaten vvith buffets, and are vvanderers, [12] and labour vvorking vvith our ovvne handes. vve are cursed: and do blesse. vve are persecuted: and susteine it. [13] vve are blasphemed: and vve beseeche. vve are made the refuse of this vvorld, the drosse of al euen vntil novv.

[14] Not to confound you, do I vvrite these things: but as my deerest children I admonish you. [15] For if you haue ten thousand pædagoges in Christ: yet not many fathers. For in Christ IESVS by the

of you, or of mans [α] iudgement: yea, I iudge not mine owne selfe. [4] For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not hereby iustified: but hee that iudgeth me is the Lord.

[5] Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkenesse, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall euery man haue praise of God. [6] And these things, brethren, I haue in a figure transferred to my selfe, and to Apollo, for your sakes: that yee might learne in vs not to thinke of men, aboue that which is written, that no one of you be puffed vp for one against another. [7] For who [β] maketh thee to differ from another? And what hast thou that thou didst not receiue? Now if thou didst receiue it, why doest thou glory as if thou hadst not receiued it? [8] Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye haue reigned as Kings without vs, and I would to God ye did reigne, that we also might reigne with you.

[9] For I thinke that God hath set forth vs the Apostles last, as it were approued to death. For wee are made a [γ] spectacle vnto the world, and to Angels, and to men. [10] We are fooles for Christs sake, but ye are wise in Christ. Wee are weake, but yee are strong: yee are honourable, but we are despised. [11] Euen vnto this present houre wee both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certaine dwelling place, [12] And labour, working with our owne hands: being reuiled, wee blesse: being persecuted, we suffer it: [13] Being defamed, we intreate: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things vnto this day. [14] I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you. [18] As though I vvould not come to you, so certaine are puffed vp. [19] But I vvil come to you quickly, if our Lord vvil: and vvil knovv not the vvordes of them that be puffed vp, but the povver. [20] For the kingdom of God is not in vvordes, but in povver. [21] Vvhat vvil you? in rodde that I come to you: or in charitie, and the spirit of mildnes?

5. THERE is plainely heard fornication among you, and such fornication, as the like is not among the heathen, so that one hath his fathers vvife. [2] And you are puffed vp: and haue not mourned rather, that he might be taken avvay from among you, that hath done this deede.

[3] I in deede absent in body, but present in spirit, haue already iudged, as present, him that hath so done, [4] in the name of our Lord IESVS Christ, you being gathered together and my spirit, vvith the vertue of our Lord IESVS [5] to deliuer such an one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saued in the day of our Lord IESVS Christ. [6] Your glorying is not good. Knovv you not that a litle leauen corrupteth the vvhole paste?

[7] Purge the old leauen, that you may be a nevv paste, as you are azymes. For our Pasche, Christ, is immolated, [8] Therfore let vs feast, not in the old leauen, nor in the leauen of malice and vvickednes, but in the azymes of sinceritie and veritie.

Gospel. [16] Wherefore I beseech you, be yee followers of me. [17] For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, who is my beloued sonne, and faithfull in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my wayes which bee in Christ, as I teach euery where in euery Church. [18] Now some are puffed vp as though I would not come to you. [19] But I wil come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speach of them which are puffed vp, but the power. [20] For the kingdome of God is not in word, but in power. [21] What wil yee? Shall I come vnto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenesse?

5. IT is reported commonly, that there is fornication among you, and such fornication, as is not so much as named amongst the Gentiles, that one should haue his fathers wife. [2] And yee are puffed vp, and haue not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed, might bee taken away from among you. [3] For I verily as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue [α] iudged alreadie, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed, [4] In the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, when yee are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Iesus Christ, [5] To deliuer such a one vnto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may bee saued in the day of the Lord Iesus. [6] Your glorying is not good: know ye not that a little leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe? [7] Purge out therefore the old leauen, that ye may be a new lumpe, as yee are vnleauened. For euen Christ our Passeouer [β] is sacrificed for vs. [8] Therefore let vs keepe [γ] the Feast, not with old leauen, neither with the leauen of malice and wickednesse: but with the vnleauened bread of sinceritie and trueth.

but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Sprite of our God. 12 All thinges are lawful vnto me: but all thynges are not profitable: I may do all thynges, but I wil be broght vnder no things power. 13 Meates are ordeyned for the belly, and the belly for meates: but God shal destroy both it, and them. Let not the body be applied vnto fornication, but vnto the Lord, and the Lord vnto the body. 14 God hath raysed vp the Lord, and shal rayse vs vp by his power.	you are vvashed, but you are sanctified, but you are iustified in the name of our Lord IESVS Christ, and in the Spirit of our God. 12 Al things are lavvful for me, but al things are not expedient. Al things are lavvful for me, but I vvil be brought vnder the povver of none. 13 The meate to the belly, and the belly to the meates: but God vvil destroy both it and them: and the body not to fornication, but to our Lord, and our Lord to the body. 14 But God both hath raised vp our Lord, and vvil raise vp vs also by his povver.	you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God. 12 All things are lawfull vnto mee, but all things are not [a]expedient: all things are lawfull for mee, but I will not bee brought vnder the power of any. 13 Meats for the belly, and the belly for meates: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord: and the Lord for the body. 14 And God hath both raised vp the Lord, and will also raise vp vs by his owne power.
15 Knowe ye not, that your bodyes are the members of Christ? shal I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. 16 Do ye not vnderstand, that he whych coupleth him selfe wyth an harlot, is become one body? for two (sayth he) shalbe one fleshe. 17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirite. 18 Flie fornication. euery synne that a man doth, is without the body: but he that is a fornicator, synneth agaynst his owne body. 19 Ether knowe ye not, how that your body is the temple of the holy Gost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God? nether are ye your owne: 20 For ye are boght for a price: therfore glorifie God in your body, and in your sprite, for they are Gods.	15 Knovv you not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Taking therfore the members of Christ, shal I make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. 16 Or knovv you not, that he which cleaueth to an harlot, is made one body? For they shal be, saith he, tvvo in one flesh. 17 But he that cleaueth to our Lord, is one spirit. 18 Flee fornication. Euery sinne vvhatsoeuer a man doeth, is vvithout the body: but he that doth fornicate, sinneth against his ovvne body. 19 Or knovv you not that your members are the temple of the holy Ghost vvhich is in you, vvhom you haue of God, and you are not your ovvne? 20 For you are bought vvith a great price. Glorifie and beare God in your body.	15 Know yee not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. 16 What, know ye not that he which is ioyned to an harlot, is one body? for two (saith he) shalbe one flesh. 17 But hee that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirit. 18 Flee fornication: Euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body. 19 What, know ye not that your bodie is the Temple of the holy Ghost which is in you, which yee haue of God, and ye are not your owne? 20 For yee are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit, which are Gods.
7. AS concerning the thynges wherof ye wrote vnto me: It were good for a man not to touche a woman. 2 Neuertheles, to auoyde fornication, let euery man haue his wife, and let euery woman haue her owne housband. 3 Let the man geue vnto the wyfe due beneuolence: lykewyse also the wyfe vnto the man. 4 The wyfe hath not power ouer her owne body, but the housband: and lykewyse also the housband hath not power ouer his owne body, but the wyfe. 5 Defraude not one another, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may geue your selues to fastyng and prayer: and afterwarde	7. AND concerning the things vvhereof you vvrote to me: It is good for a man not to touch a vvoman. 2 But because of fornication let euery man haue his ovvne vvife, and let euery vvoman haue her ovvne husband. 3 Let the husband render his dette to the vvife: and the vvife also in like maner to her husband. 4 The vvoman hath not povver of her ovvne body: but her husband. And in like maner the man also hath not povver of his ovvne body: but the vvoman. 5 Defraude not one an other, except perhaps by consent for a time, that you may giue your self to praier: and returne againe together,	7. NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote vnto me, It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 2 Neuerthelesse, to auoyd fornication, let euery man haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband. 3 Let the husband render vnto the wife due beneuolence: and likewise also the wife vnto the husband. 4 The wife hath not power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his owne body, but the wife. 5 Defraud you not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may giue your selues to fasting and prayer, and come together againe, that Satan wherin he was called. [21] Art thou called to be a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou maist be fre, vse it rather. [22] For he that is called in the Lord being a seruant, is the Lordes freman: lykewyse he that is called being fre, is Christes seruant. [23] Ye are boght with a price, be not mens seruantes.

[24] Brethren let euery man, wherin he was called, therin abyde with God. [25] As concerning virgins, I haue no commandement of the Lord: but I gyue vnto you myne aduise, as one that hath obtayned mercie of the Lord to be beleued. let him abide. [21] Vvast thou called being a bondman? care not for it: but and if thou canst be made free, vse it rather. [22] For he that in our Lord is called, being a bondman, is the franchised of our Lord. likevvise he that is called, being free, is the bondman of Christ. [23] You vvere bought vvith price, be not made the bondmen of men. [24] Euery brother vvherein he vvas called, in that let him abide before God.

[25] And as concerning virgins, a commaundement of our Lord I haue not: but counsel I giue, as hauing obteined mercie of our Lord to be faithful. [26] I thinke therfore that this is good for the present necessitie, because it is good for a man sc to be. [27] Art thou tied to a vvife? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loose from a vvife? seeke not a vvife. [28] But if thou take a vvife, thou hast not sinned. [32] But I vvould haue you to be vvithout carefulnes. He that is without a vvife, is careful for the things that pertaine to our Lord, how he may please God. [33] But he that is vvith a vvife, is careful for the things that pertaine to the vvorld, hovv he may please his vvife: and he is deuided. [34] And the vvoman vnmaried and the virgin, thinketh on the things that pertaine to our Lord: that she may be holy both in body and in spirit. [22] For he that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords [α] free man: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christes seruant. [23] Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the seruants of men. [24] Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abide with God. [25] Now concerning virgins, I haue no commandement of the Lord: yet I giue my iudgement as one that hath obtained mercie of the Lord to be faithfull.

[26] I suppose therefore that this is good for the present [β] distresse, I say, that it is good for a man so to be. [27] Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife. It remaineth, that both they that haue wiues, be as though they had none: [30] And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not: [31] And they that vse this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away. [32] But I would haue you without carefulnesse. He that is vnmarried, careth for the things that belongeth to the Lord, how he may please the Lord: [33] But he that is married, careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

[34] There is difference also betweene a wife and a virgin: the vnmaried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how shee may please her husband. you. not to tangle you in a snare: but that ye follow that, which is honest and comly, and that ye may quyetly cleaue vnto the Lord without separation.

36 If any man thinke that it is vncomly for his virgin yf she passe the flowre of her age, and if so nede requireth, let hym do what he lysteth, he synneth not: let them be coupled in mariage. 37 Neuerthelesse he that purposeth surely in his heart, hauing no nede, but hathe power ouer his owne wyl: and hath so decreed in his heart, that he wil kepe his virgin, doth wel. 38 So then he that ioyneth his virgin in mariage, doth wel: but he that ioyneth not his virgin in mariage, doth better. 39 The wyfe is bounde by the lawe, as longe as her housband lyueth: but if her housband slepe, she is at libertie to mary wyth whom she wyl, only in the Lord. 40 But she is happier yf she so abide, in my iudgement. and I thinke also that I haue the Sprite of God.

you, but to that vvhich is honest, and that may giue you povver vvithout impediment to attend vpon our Lord.

36 But if any man thinke that he seemeth dishonoured vpon his virgin, for that she is past age, and if it must so be, let him doe that he vvil. He sinneth not if she marie. 37 For he that hath determined in his hart being settled, not hauing necessitie, but hauing povver of his ovvne vvil, and hath iudged this in his hart, to keepe his virgin, doeth vvel. 38 Therfore both he that ioyneth his virgin in matrimonie, doeth vvel: and he that ioyneth not, doeth better.

39 A vvoman is bound to the lavv so long time as her husband liueth: but if her husband sleepe, she is at libertie: let her marie to vvhom she vvil: only in our Lord. 40 But more blessed shal she be, if she so remaine, according to my counsel. and I thinke that I also haue the Spirit of God.

8. AND concerning those things that are sacrificed to Idols, vve knovv that vve al haue knovvledge. Knovvledge puffeth vp: but charitie edifieth. 2 And if any man thinke that he knoweth something, he hath not yet knovven, as he ought to knovv. 3 But if any man loue God, the same is knovven of him. 4 But as for the meates that are immolated to Idols, vve knovv that an Idol is nothing in the vvorld, and that there is no God, but one. 5 For although there be that are called gods, either in heauen, or in earth (for there are many gods, and many lordes) 6 yet to vs there is one God, the Father, of vvhom al things, and vve vnto him: and one Lord, IESVS Christ, by vvhom al things, and vve by him.

cast a snare vpon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend vpon the Lord without distraction. 36 But if any man thinke that he behaueth himselfe vncomely toward his virgin, if she passe the floure of her age, and neede so require, let him doe what hee will, hee sinneth not: let them marrie.

37 Neuerthelesse, hee that standeth stedfast in his heart, hauing no necessitie, but hath power ouer his owne wil, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keepe his virgin, doeth well. 38 So then he that giueth her in mariage doeth wel: but he that giueth her not in mariage, doth better. 39 The wife is bound by the Lawe as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband bee dead, shee is at libertie to bee married to whom shee wil, onely in the Lord. 40 But shee is happier if shee so abide, after my iudgement: and I thinke also that I haue the Spirit of God.

sovven vnto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if vve reape your carnal things? 12 If other be partakers of your povver: vvhy not vve rather? Hovvbeit vve haue not vsed, this povver: but vve beare al things, lest vve should giue any offence to the Gospel of Christ. 13 Knovv you not that they which vvorke in the holy place, eate the things that are of the holy place: and they that serue the altar, participat with the altar? 14 So also our Lord ordained for them that preach the Gospel, to liue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vsed none of these. Neither haue I vvritten these things, that they should be so done in me: for it is good for me to die rather, then that any man should make my glorie void. 16 For and if I euangelize, it is no glorie to me: for necessitie lieth vpon me: for vvoe is to me if I euangelize not. 17 For if I doe this vvillingly, I haue revvard: but if against my vvil, a charge is committed to me.

18 Vvhat is my revvard then? That preaching the Gospel, I yeld the Gospel vvithout cost, that I abuse not my povver in the Gospel. 19 For vvhereas I vvas free of al, I made my self the seruant of al: that I might gaine the moe.

20 And I became to the Ievves as a Ievv, that I might gaine the Ievves. 21 to them that are vnder the Lavv, as though I vvere vnder the Lavv (vvhereas my self vvas not vnder the Lavv) that I might gaine them that vvere vnder the Lavv. to them that vvere vvithout the Lavv, as though I vvere vvithout the Lavv (vvhereas I vvas not vvithout the lavv of God, but vvas in the lavv of Christ) that I might gaine them that vvere vvithout the Lavv. 22 To the vveake I became weake, that I might gaine the weake. To al men I became al things, that I might saue al.

vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if wee shall reape your carnall things? 12 If others bee partakers of this power ouer you, are not we rather? Neuerthelesse, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the Gospel of Christ. 13 Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things, [a] liue of the things of the Temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar? 14 Euen so hath the Lord ordeined, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vsed none of these things. Neither haue I written these things, that it should bee so done vnto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my glorying voyd.

16 For though I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to glory of: for necessitie is laid vpon mee, yea, woe is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel. 17 For if I doe this thing willingly, I haue a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation of the Gospel is committed vnto me. 18 What is my reward then? verely that when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the Gospel. 19 For though I bee free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all, that I might gaine the more.

20 And vnto the Iewes, I became as a Iew, that I might gaine the Iewes: to them that are vnder the Law, as vnder the Law, that I might gaine them that are vnder the Law: 21 To them that are without Law, as without Law (being not without Law to God, but vnder the Law to Christ,) that I might gaine them that are without Law. 22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might gaine the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

[15] I speake as vnto them which haue discretion, iudge ye what I say. [16] Is not the cuppe of blessing which we blesse, the communion of the bloud of Christ? Is not the bread which we breake, the communion of the body of Christe? [17] Because that we which are many, are one bread and one body, in as muche as we all are partakers of one bread. [18] Beholde Israel which is after the fleshe: Are not they which eat of the sacrifice, partakers of the aulter?

[19] What say I then? that the image is any thyng, or that it, which is offered to images, is any thynge? [20] Nay, but I say, that these thinges which the Gentils offer, they offer to deuils, and not vnto God: and I would not that ye should haue felowshyppe with the deuils. [21] Ye can not dryncke of the cup of the Lord, and of the cup of the deuils. Ye can not be partakers of the Lordes table and of the table of deuils. [22] Do we prouoke the Lord? or are we stronger then he? [23] All thynges are laweful for me, but all thyngs are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all thinges edifie not.

[24] Let no man seke his owne profit, but let euery man seke anothers wealth. [25] Whatsoeuer is solde in the fleshe market, that eat ye, and aske no questions for conscience sake. [26] For the earth is the Lordes, and all that there in is. [27] If any of them which beleue not, byd you to a feast, and if ye be disposed to go, whatsoeuer is set before you, eat, askyng no question, for conscience sake.

[13] Iudge in your selues, is it comly that a woman praye vnto God bare headed? [14] Doth not nature it selfe teach you, that it is a shame for a man, yf he haue longe heare? [15] And a prayse to a woman, yf she haue longe heare? For her heare is geuen her to couer her with all. [16] If any man luste to stryue, we haue no suche custome, nether the Churches of God.

[17] This I warne you of, and prayse you no whit, that ye come together: not with proffit, but with hurt. [18] For fyrst of all, when ye come together in the Churche, I heare that there is dissensions among you: and I beleue it to be true in some of you. [19] For ther must be euen heresies among you, that they which are perfect among you, myght be knowen. [20] When ye come together therfore into one place, a man can not eat the Lordes Supper. [21] For euery man begynneth afore to eat his owne supper: and one is hongry, and another is droncken. [22] Haue ye not houses to eat and to drincke in? Or els despice ye the Churche of God, and shame them that haue not? what shal I say to you? shal I prayse you in this? I prayse you not.

[23] For that which I deliuered vnto you, I receaued of the Lord, to wit, That the Lord Iesus the same nyght in which he was betrayed, toke bread: [24] And when he had geuen thankes, he brake it and sayd, Take ye, eate ye: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do ye in remembrance of me. [13] Your selues iudge: doth it become a vvoman not couered to pray vnto God? [14] Neither doth nature it self teache you, that a man in deede if he nourish his heare, it is an ignominie for him: [15] but if a vvoman nourish her heare, it is a glorie for her, because heare is giuen her for a veile? [16] But if any man seeme to be contentious, vve haue no such custome, not the CHVRCH of God.

[17] And this I commaund: not praising it that you come together not to better, but to vvorse. [18] First in deede vvhen you come together into the Church, I heare that there are schismes among you, and in part I beleeue it. [19] For there must be heresies also: that they also vvhich are approued, may be made manifest among you. [20] Vvhen you come therfore together in one, is it not novv to eate our Lordes supper. thoght as a childe. but assone as I was a man, I put away chyldesh things. 12 For now we se in a glasse, and in a darcke speakyng: but then shal we se face to face. Now I knowe in part: but then shal I know euen as I am knowen. 13 Now abydeth fayth, hope, and loue, euen these thre: but the chiefest of these is loue.

14. as a litle one, I thought as a litle one. But vvhen I vvas made a man, I did avvay the things that belonged to a litle one. 12 Vve see novv by a glasse in a darke sort: but then face to face. Novv I knovv in part: but then I shal knovv as also I am knovven. 13 And novv there remaine, faith, hope, charitie, these three. but the greater of these is charitie.

14. FOLOVV Charitie, earnestly pursue spiritual things: but rather that you may prophecie. 2 For he that speaketh vvith tongue, speaketh not to men, but to God: for no man heareth. But in spirit he speaketh mysteries. 3 For he that prophecieth, speaketh to men vnto edification, and exhortation, and consolation. 4 He that speaketh vvith tongues, edifieth him self: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church. 5 And I would haue you al to speake vvith tongues, but rather to prophecie. For greater is he that prophecieth, then he that speaketh vvith tongues: vnlesse perhaps he interpret, that the Church may take edification. 6 But novv brethren if I come to you speaking vvith tongues: vvhat shal I profit you, vnlesse I speake to you either in reuelation, or in knovvledge, or in prophecie, or in doctrine? 7 Yet the things vvithout life that giue a sound, be it pipe or harpe, vnlesse they giue a distinction of soundes, hovv shal that be knovven which is piped, or which is harped? 8 For if the trumpet giue an vncertaine voice, vvho shal prepare him self to battel? 9 So you also by a tongue vnlesse you vtter manifest speach, hovv shal that be knovven that is said? for you shal be speaking into the aire.

10 There are (for example) so many kindes of tongues in this vvorld, and none is vvithout voice. 11 If then I knovv not the vertue of the voice, I shal be to him to vvhom I speake, barbarous: and he that speaketh, barbarous to me. 12 So you also, because you be emulators of spirites:

vnderstood as a childe, I [α]thought as a childe: but when I became a man, I put away childish things. 12 For now we see through a glasse, [β]darkely: but then face to face: now I know in part, but then shall I know euen as also I am knowen. 13 And now abideth faith, hope, charitie, these three, but the greatest of these is charitie.

14. FOLLOW after charitie, and desire spirituall giftes, but rather that yee may prophesie. 2 For he that speaketh in an vnknowen tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man [γ]vnderstandeth him: howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. 3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort. 4 He that speaketh in an vnknowen tongue, edifieth himselfe: but hee that prophesieth, edifieth the Church. 5 I would that yee all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is hee that prophesieth, then hee that speaketh with tongues, except hee interprete, that the Church may receiue edifying. 6 Now brethren, if I come vnto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speake to you either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine? 7 And euen things without life giuing sound, whether pipe or harpe, except they giue a distinction in the [δ]sounds, how shall it be knowen what is piped or harped? 8 For if the trumpet giue an vncertaine sound, who shall prepare himselfe to the battell? 9 So likewise you, except ye vtter by the tongue words [ε]easie to be vnderstood, how shall it be knowen what is spoken? for ye shall speake into the aire.

10 There are, it may bee, so many kindes of voyces in the world, and none of them are without signification. 11 Therefore if I knowe not the meaning of the voyce, I shall bee vnto him that speaketh, a Barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a Barbarian vnto mee. 12 Euen so yee,

It is sovven in corruption, it shal rise in incorruption. [43] It is sovven in dishonour, it shal rise in glorie. It is sovven in infirmitie, it shal rise in povver. [44] It is sovven a natural body: it shal rise a spiritual body. If there be a natural body, there is also a spiritual, [45] as it is vvritten, The first man Adam vvas made into a liuing soul: the last Adam into a quickening spirit. men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds. [40] There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestriall: But the glorie of the celestiall is one, and the glorie of the terrestriall is another.

[41] There is one glory of the Sunne, another of the Moone, and another glory of the starres: for one starre differeth from another starre in glorie. [42] So also is the resurrection of the dead, it is sowen in corruption, it is raised in incorruption.

[43] It is sowen in dishonour, it is raised in glorie: it is sowen in weakenesse, it is raised in power: [44] It is sowen a naturall body, it is raised a spirituall body. There is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body. [45] And so it is written: The first man Adam was made a liuing soule, the last Adam was made a quickening spirit. that is, as touching that exceding glorie. 11 For if that which shoulde be destroyed was glorious, much more shal that which remayneth, be glorious. 12 Seing then that we haue suche trust, we vse great playnes of speeche. 13 And we are not as Moses, which put a vayle ouer his face, that the children of Israel should not se, for what purpose that serued which oght to be put away. 14 Therfore their myndes were blinded: for vntil this day remayneth the same couering vntaken away in the Olde testament when they read it, which vayle in Christe is put away. 15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, that vayle is layed ouer their hearts.

16 Neuerthelesse when theyr harts shalbe tourned to the Lord, the vayle shalbe taken away. 17 The Lord no dout is the Sprite: and where the Sprite of the Lord is, there is libertie. 18 But we all beholde as in a myrrour the glorie of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, euen of the Sprite of the Lord.

reason of the excelling glorie. 11 For if that which is made void, is by glorie: much more that vvhich abideth, is in glorie.

12 Hauing therfore such hope, vve vse much confidence: 13 and not as Moyses put a vele vpon his face, that the children of Israël might not behold his face, vvhich is made voide, 14 but their senses vvere dulled. For vntil this present day, the self same vele in the lecture of the old testament remaineth vnreuealed (because in Christ it is made voide) 15 but vntil this present day, vvhen Moyses is read, a vele is put vpon their hart. 16 But vvhen he shal be conuerted to our Lord, the vele shal be taken avvay. 17 And our Lord is a Spirit. And vvhere the Spirit of our Lord is, there is libertie. 18 But vve al, beholding the glorie of our Lord vvith face reuealed, are transformed into the same image from glorie vnto glorie, as of our Lordes Spirit.

4. THERFORE hauing this ministration: according as vve haue obteined mercie, vve faile not, 2 but vve renounce the secrete things of dishonestie, not walking in craftines, nor adulterating the vvord of God, but in manifestation of the truth commending our selues to euery conscience of men before God. 3 And if our Gospel be also hidde, in them that perish it is hidde, 4 in vvhom the God of this vvorld hath blinded the mindes of the infidels, that the illumination of the Gospel of the glorie of Christ vvho is the image of God, might not shine to them.

5 For vve preache not our selues, but IESVS Christ our Lord: and vs, your seruants by IESVS, 6 because God that commaunded light to shine of darkenes, he hath shined in our hartes to the illumination of the knovvledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Christ IESVS.

reason of the glorie that excelleth. 11 For if that which is done away, was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that wee haue such hope, we vse great [α] plainnesse of speech. 13 And not as Moses, which put a vaile ouer his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly looke to the end of that which is abolished; 14 But their mindes were blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same vaile vntaken away, in the reading of the old testament: which vaile is done away in Christ. 15 But euen vnto this day, when Moses is read, the vaile is vpon their heart. 16 Neuerthelesse, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vaile shall be taken away. 17 Now the Lord is that spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie. 18 But we all, with open face beholding as in a glasse the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, euen as [β] by the spirit of the Lord.

4. 7 Ἔχομεν δὲ τὸν θησαυρὸν τοῦτον ἐν ὀστρακίνοις σκεύεσιν, ἵνα ἡ ὑπερβολὴ τῆς δυνάμεως ᾖ τοῦ Θεοῦ, καὶ μὴ ἐξ ἡμῶν· 8 ἐν παντὶ θλιβόμενοι, ἀλλ᾽ οὐ στενοχωρούμενοι· ἀπορούμενοι, ἀλλ᾽ οὐκ ἐξαπορούμενοι· 9 διωκόμενοι, ἀλλ᾽ οὐκ ἐγκαταλειπόμενοι· καταβαλλόμενοι, ἀλλ᾽ οὐκ ἀπολλύμενοι· 10 πάντοτε τὴν νέκρωσιν τοῦ [e]Ἰησοῦ ἐν τῷ σώματι [f] περιφέροντες, ἵνα καὶ ἡ ζωὴ τοῦ Ἰησοῦ ἐν τῷ σώματι ἡμῶν φανερωθῇ. 11 ἀεὶ γὰρ ἡμεῖς οἱ ζῶντες, εἰς θάνατον παραδιδόμεθα διὰ Ἰησοῦν, ἵνα καὶ ἡ ζωὴ τοῦ Ἰησοῦ φανερωθῇ ἐν τῇ θνητῇ σαρκὶ ἡμῶν. 12 Ὥστε ὁ [g] θάνατος ἐν ἡμῖν ἐνεργεῖται, ἡ δὲ ζωὴ ἐν ὑμῖν. 13 ἔχοντες δὲ τὸ αὐτὸ πνεῦμα τῆς πίστεως, κατὰ τὸ γεγραμμένον, "Ἐπίστευσα, διὸ ἐλάλησα," καὶ ἡμεῖς πιστεύομεν, διὸ καὶ λαλοῦμεν· 14 εἰδότες ὅτι ὁ ἐγείρας τὸν Κύριον Ἰησοῦν, καὶ ἡμᾶς [h] διὰ Ἰησοῦ| ἐγερεῖ, καὶ

7 and we han this tresour in britil vessels: that the worthinesse be of goddis vertu, and not of us. 8 in alle thingis we suffren tribulacioun: but we ben not angwische or anoied, we ben made pore: but we lacken no thing, 9 we suffren persecucioun: but we ben not forsakun, we ben made lowe: but we ben not confoundid, we ben cast doun, but we perischen not, 10 ℣ euermore we beren aboute the sleyng of ihesus in oure bodi: that also the liif of ihesus be schewid in oure bodies, 11 for euermore we that lyuen: ben takun in to deeth for ihesus, that the liif of ihesus: be schewid in oure deedli fleisch, 12 therfore deeth worchith in us: but liif in ȝou. 13 And we han the same spirit of feith: as it is writun, I haue bileuede for whiche thing I haue spoke, and we bileuen: wherfor also we speken, 14 witinge that he that reisid ihesus schal reise also us with ihesus, and schal ordeyne with ȝou, 15 and alle thingis for ȝou, that a plenteuous grace bi many thankyngis ben plenteuous in to the glorie of god,

16 for which thing we failen not, but thouȝ oure vtter man be coruptid: netheles the ynner man is renewid fro dai to day, 17 but that liȝt thing of oure tribulacioun that lastith now but as it were bi a momente worchith in us ouer mesure an euerlastinge birthun in to hiȝnes of glorie, 18 while that we biholden not tho thingis that ben seyn: but tho that ben not seen, for the thingis that ben seen ben but durynge for a schorte tyme, but tho thingis that ben not seen: ben euerlastynge.

5. AND we witen that if oure erthli hous of this dwellynge be dissolued: that we han a bildynge of god an hous not made bi hondis euerlastinge in heuene 2 for whi in this thing we moornen: coueitynge to be clothid aboue with oure dwellynge whiche is of heuene, 3 if netheles we ben founden clothid, and not

7 But we have this treasure in erthen vessels, that the excellent power of it myght appere to be of God, and not of vs. 8 We are troubled on every side, yet are we not with out shyft. We are in povertie: but not vtterly without somwhat. 9 We are persecuted: but are not forsaken. We are cast doune: nevertheless we perisshe not. 10 And we all wayes beare in oure bodyes the dyinge of the Lorde Iesus, that the lyfe of Iesu myght appere in oure bodyes.

11 For we which live, are alwayes delyvered vnto deeth for Iesus sake, that the lyfe also of Iesu myght appere in oure mortall flesshe. 12 So then deeth worketh in vs, and lyfe in you.

13 Seynge then that we have the same sprete of fayth, accordinge as it is written: I beleved and therfore have I spoken. We also beleve, and therfore speake. 14 For we knowe that he which raysed vp the Lorde Iesus, shall rayse vp vs also by the meanes of Iesus, and shall seet vs with you. 15 For all thinges do I for youre sakes, that the plenteous grace by thankes geven of many, maye redounde to the prayse of god.

16 Wherfore we are not weried, but though oure vttward man perisshe, yet the inwarde man is renewed daye by daye. 17 For oure excedinge tribulacion which is momentany and light prepareth an excedinge and an eternall wayght of glorye vnto vs, 18 whill we loke not on the thynges which are sene, but on the thynges which are not sene. For thinges which are sene, are temporall: but thynges which are not sene, are eternall,
